UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA
Endowed with 40,000 acres of land in 1784 and chartered in 1785, the charter was the first granted by a state for a government controlled university. After Louisville and then Greensboro were first selected, the current site was chosen.
The first president, and author of the school's charter, Abraham Baldwin, resigned when the doors opened, and was succeeded by Josiah Meigs. The University first began to thrive under Moses Waddel, who became president in 1819. Alonzo Church was president in 1829-1859.
During the War for Southern Independence, most of the students entered the Confederate Army. The University closed its doors in 1864, and did not open again until January 1866. After the war, many Confederate veterans became students.
Famous pre-war professors were John and Joseph LeConte and Charles F. McCay, while famous students were Robert Toombs, Alexander H. Stephens, Howell Cobb, and Crawford W. Long.
Plans for a modern university were first developed by Walter B. Hill and realized under Harmon W. Caldwell. The best known of the post-war presidents (now chancellors) was David C. Barrow. The builder of the modern plant was Chancellor Steadman V. Sanford.

UGA transformed Stegeman Coliseum with two major renovations costing more than $20 million combined to give the historic arena at 21st century facelift.

FANS FLOCK TO THE STEG:

Georgia Basketball broke its all-time total attendance record for Stegeman Coliseum during both of Tom Crean's first two seasons in Athens. In 2019-20, the Bulldogs' home average of 9,651 was the second-highest in school history.

STEGEMAN UPDATES:

- In 2010, a $13-million renovation upgraded Stegeman's concourse and added 10,000-square feet of space on both sides of the arena. Those efforts won awards from both the American Institute of Architects and the Illuminating Engineering Society of North America.
- In 2016-17, an $8-million investment enhanced the Coliseum's court and seating areas, most notably with the addition of a massive center-hung scoreboard.
- The multi-tiered center-hung scoreboard features more than 1000-square feet of HD video and 1000-square feet of LED sections
- In addition, nearly 2000-square feet of LED features were added around the arena's portals and upper rim.

CREDENTIALS

Credentials for University of Georgia home basketball games are issued for working media only and should be requested as early as possible.

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, all credentials will be issued on-site at Stegeman Coliseum. Limited seating is available in the Coliseum press section this season and credentials will issued on a priority basis. Credentials will be distributed just inside Gate A on the Smith Street side of Stegeman Coliseum.

Media parking this season will be located in the "Hoke Smith" lot, which is located at the corner of Smith Street and Sanford Drive.

INTERVIEWS

Interviews with coaches and players will be conducted before practice on pre-determined dates. These opportunities will be conducted virtually this season via Zoom sessions. Unless the calendar necessitates a change, these availabilities will take place the day before each home game, while road games will vary. As much advance notice as possible will be given for these dates and times.

Please contact Mike Mobley in the Sports Communications office for assistance.

PRACTICES

Georgia's practice sessions are generally closed to the media. Upon request, videographers and photographers may be allowed to shoot a pre-determined portion at the beginning of some practices. During this time, a member of the UGA Sports Communications office will be available to show where cameras are permitted.

GAME DAY MEDIA SERVICES

Stegeman Coliseum's press facilities are outlined in the diagram to the right.

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, seats in the press section will be extremely limited and socially distanced. All media in attendance must wear masks while inside Stegeman Coliseum.

Press seating is located above Portal 2 in section K of the lower bowl. The home radio broadcast position will be located at the scorer's table. The TV announce location will be located on the front row of section K.

When media obtain their credentials at Gate A, they also will be given a boxed pre-game meal. Media are asked to eat in the press section and remain there throughout the game. There will be no access to the traditional Coliseum press room before or during the game.

Following the completion of the game, media will be allowed to move to the press room, which is located through Portal 3, to take part in postgame interview sessions via Zoom. Media will be allowed to remain in the press room while completing their work.

A room with similar facilities is available for photographers adjacent to the press room.

No traditional statistical information (box scores, play-by-plays, shot charts) will be printed for the media. All statistical data will be available via the statbroadcast.com system.

INTERNET ACCESS

Media wishing to obtain high-speed Internet access may log on via either through wireless or hard-wired ethernet method. Both are available in the media seating area and the working press room within the Coliseum. Please see a member of the UGA Sports Communications office to obtain information on how to access the University network.

IN-GAME STATISTICS

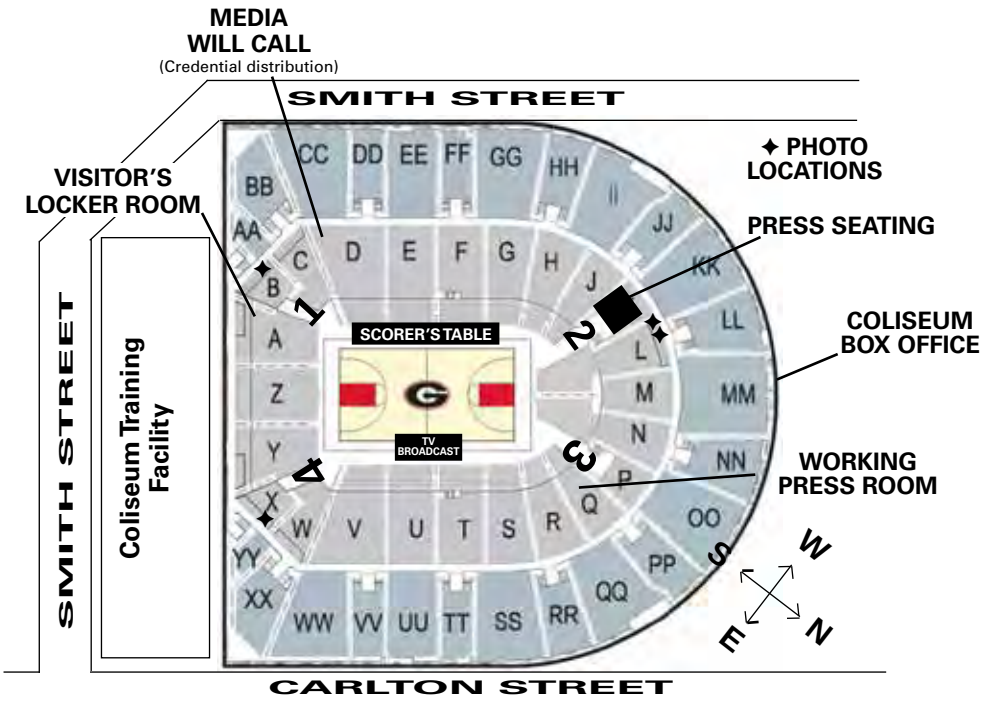
Media covering Georgia home games can view a running statistical account on a web browser by logging onto: uga.statbroadcast.com.

PHOTOGRAPHERS

As with media seating, photography locations during the 2020-21 season are extremely limited. Four locations will be located at the top of the "lower bowl" of the Stegeman Coliseum seating area – one behind Section B, two behind Section L and one behind Section X.

The only photographers/videographers permitted to shoot adjacent to the playing floor are tested as part of Georgia team protocol for the COVID-19 pandemic.

STEGEMAN COLISEUM PRESS FACILITIES DIAGRAM



Flashes and strobe units are prohibited unless permission has been granted. Photographers who wish to transmit their photos on-site are asked to use the room adjacent to the working press room. This area is specifically dedicated to the transmission of photography and provides greater work space.

POSTGAME INTERVIEWS

Following home games at Stegeman Coliseum, Georgia head coach Tom Crean and two Bulldog players will be available for interviews via a Zoom session.

Zoom sessions with Coach Crean also will be conducted following road games.

Visiting teams also will conduct interviews via Zoom ia different location, meaning the home and visiting team interview sessions will likely be going on simultaneously. The visiting team will determine its postgame procedure for available players.

Information and links to the Zoom sessions will be emailed to the media approximately three hours before tipoff. Catherine Harris of the UGA Sports Communications office will moderate Georgia's interviews for home games.

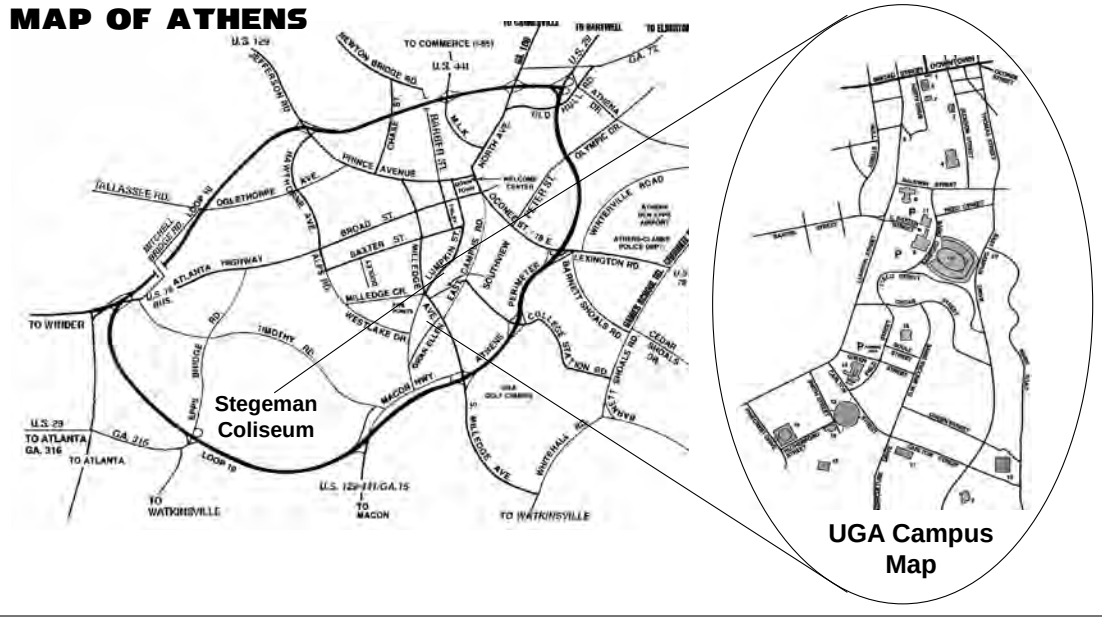
MAP OF ATHENS



THE GEORGIA BULLDOG RADIO NETWORK

The best and broadest exposure possible for UGA basketball comes from the Georgia Bulldog Radio Network by IMG Sports. Not only with its vast number of affiliates, but also from its powerful flagship station AM 750 in Atlanta, the network gives coverage to Bulldog hoops that is unmatched by any program nationwide.

IMG Sports provides radio network production for more than 30 major college athletic programs in the SEC and other prominent conferences across the United Stats. The network flagship is News/Talk 750 WSB — Atlanta's 50,000-watt, clear-channel station — which provides coverage with a signal that reaches more than 35 states and Canada. Scott Howard and Chuck Dowdle will again handle the play-by-play and color analyst duties, respectively. Coach Tom Crean can also be heard each Thursday night during the season on the Bulldog Hotline, heard over most of the network stations.

Scott Howard (right) and Chuck Dowdle will work their fourth season together in 2015-16.

SCOTT HOWARD

The voice of Scott Howard has become synonymous with Georgia sports and in particular, with Bulldog football and basketball. Howard returns for his 26th season behind the microphone at Georgia basketball games. First a color analyst with legendary voice Larry Munson, Howard will be working his 23rd season as the Bulldogs' primary play-by-play announcer.

Howard was the sports director at Athens radio stations WNGC-WGAU for 14 years before joining IMG Sports in 2009.

A 1984 Georgia graduate, Howard began his association with Bulldog football as a color analyst alongside Munson in 1994. In 2007, he broadcasted play-by-play action in all of Georgia's road football games, and the next season he became the program's primary radio voice by the third game. Howard was also play-by-play announcer for Georgia baseball from 1990-96.

CHUCK DOWDLE

Native Atlantan Chuck Dowdle, one of the most prominent figures in the Atlanta sports scene, will return to the Georgia Bulldog Radio Network for the his eighth season as color analyst.

Dowdle retired from WSB-TV in 2009 after 24 years as weeknight sports anchor with the top-rated station. Dowdle also worked for WPLG in Miami from 1973-85. During that time, he hosted the Don ShulaTV Show and also announced football for the Miami Dolphins and the Miami Hurricanes, as well as the NASL's Ft. Lauderdale Strikers.

During his time at WSB, Dowdle was involved with almost every aspect of Atlanta sports, from announcing Falcons' preseason games to hosting UGA football and basketball coaches' shows. He was also the host of "High-Q", a game show pitting some of the Atlanta region's brightest high-school students against one another in academic competition.

Dowdle attended UGA in his freshman year, where he played for the basketball team. He then transferred to Georgia State, where he was a pitcher for the baseball team in his junior and senior years, before graduating in 1972.

ADAM GILLESPIE

After serving as the back-up producer/engineer for the Georgia Radio Network last season, Adam Gillespie will take over in a full-time role beginning with the 2020-21 campaign.

An Athens native who attended high school in Augusta, Gillespie joined the production staff at 680 The Fan in Atlanta in 2005. His role expanded to include producing the postgame show on the Atlanta Braves Network when the stationed the team's broadcast rights in 2010. That same year, 680 became the official sports-talk partner of Georgia Athletics and Gillespie began producing Bulldog Roundtable, the station's 30-minute show devoted exclusively to UGA Athletics which airs on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Christened in 1964 as the Georgia Coliseum, the venue was officially renamed and dedicated to the memory of Herman James Stegeman on Saturday, March 2, 1996. Stegeman made many contributions to Georgia's athletic program during his 20-year tenure (1919-39). He was a pioneer in the development of college basketball in the south, originating the region's first big basketball tournament when he organized the Southern Conference Tournament in Atlanta from 1921-32. Stegeman Hall on the UGA campus was named for Coach Stegeman in 1946 and for years it was home of the University's athletic and physical education departments. The athletic department moved its offices to the new coliseum in 1964, and Stegeman Hall was demolished in 1995 following completion of the Ramsey Student Center for Physical Activities.

The Coliseum is actually two separate structures, the roof and the building beneath it. The only connection is an aluminum bellows which seals the joints and permits the rise and fall of the roof with temperature change.

Stegeman has undergone thorough renovations in the last few years, receiving a 21st Century face lift. In 2017, fans walked in to the final product following more than $20-million in renovations over the past several years.

During the summer of 2017, the arena received a massive center-hung scoreboard, new black seats, an improved LED lighting system, a state-of-the-art sound system and graphics above the horseshoe end celebrating past teams and retired jerseys. That followed work in 2017 which provided a dramatic mural covering the Coliseum's distinctive end wall.

In 2010, Stegeman's concourses received a similar makeover, upgrading the graphics, enhancing spectator access to concessions and restrooms and adding 5,000-square feet of concourse space on each side of the arena. Those efforts won awards from both the American Institute of Architects and the Illuminating Engineering Society of North America.

In addition, Stegeman Coliseum was utilized for rhythmic gymnastics and preliminary volleyball competition during the Centennial Olympic Games in 1996.

DOGS EAGER TO RETURN TO COURT

Georgia's 2020-21 roster will feature six returning letterwinners meshing with eight newcomers.

Junior Tye Fagan and returning sophomore starters Toumani Camara and Sahvir Wheeler lead the Bulldogs who are back...along with sophomores Christian Brown, Jaykwon Walton and Jaxon Etter.

Georgia's newcomers provide a mix of experience and youth, with three graduate transfers, two juniors, a sophomore and two freshmen joining the fold. Andrew Garcia, P.J. Horne and Justin Kier will join the Bulldogs for a single season of eligibility. A trio of junior college transfers includes juniors Jonathan Ned and Mikal Starks and sophomore Tyron McMillan. Peach State natives K.D. Johnson and Josh Taylor comprise UGA's freshman class.

"I like their camaraderie" head coach Tom Crean said. "We're working very hard. There are guys who are very, very hungry. In addition to all that, they're doing a good job in the weight room. They're doing a good job when we work out outside. They're pushing each other. They're competing.

"There is a spirit about them, and they're improving. A lot of new guys are learning to come together in a very, very different situation, and that's what we're focused on, bridging that every day. Our staff is concentrating on 'How do we get the most out of this day.' That's what we're trying to do. If that sounds a little cliché or corny, it is what it is."

Fagan is the most veteran Bulldog, seeing action in all but one game during Crean's two seasons in Athens. A year ago, he posted a trio of double-digit scoring outputs in extremely efficient fashion. The Logtown, Ga., native shot 81.0 percent (17-of-21) from the field en route to reaching double figures against Dayton, Arizona State and at Kentucky.

Camara moved into Georgia's starting lineup for the ninth game of the season and remained there throughout the remainder of the campaign. He saw a considerable uptick in his production thereafter, going from 4.6 ppg, 3.3 rpg and 16.0 mpg off the bench to 7.3 ppg, 4.7 rpg and 27.0 mpg when getting the nod.

Wheeler secured his place in the Bulldogs' record books during his initial season at UGA. The Harlem native, who later moved to Houston, distributed a Georgia freshman record 139 assists on the year. That tally also ranks No. 14 among UGA's all-time single-season leaders. Wheeler finished the season ranked fourth in the SEC in assists (4.5 apg) and sixth in assist-to-turnover ratio (1.5).

Brown, Walton and Etter will look to up their contributions from their freshman campaigns. Brown and Walton both were consensus top-100 recruits in the class of 2019, ranking No. 64 and 69, respectively, by ESPN.com.

Brown logged double-digit minutes in nine SEC outings and flirted with a double-double (11 points and eight boards) against N.C. Central.

Walton's season was hindered by injury and illness, limiting him to seven games played.

Etter, a walk-on, was a two-time All-State performer at Etowah High School who veteran players consistently compliment for his vision of the game.

Georgia's graduate transfers have already enjoyed strong collegiate careers.

Garcia was named the America East Conference's Sixth Man of the Year in 2019 and earned second-team All-America East honors in 2020. He averaged 10.1 ppg in 77 outings with the Seawolves.

Horne, a Tifton, Ga., native returning home to play for his state school, helped Virginia Tech earn NCAA Tournament bids in both 2018 and 2019. He started 30 of 32 games for the Hokies last season, averaging 7.6 ppg and 4.2 rpg.

Kier missed the majority of last season with a stress fracture in his right foot. Two seasons ago, he was one of only 11 Division I players to average more than 14.0 points, 6.0 rebounds, 2.5 assists and 1.5 steals per game.

Each of Georgia's junior college recruits were ranked among the top-15 prospects nationally by 247Sports.com, with Starks at No. 9, McMillan at No. 11 and Ned at No. 15.

Ned and Starks come from dramatically different hometowns but the same junior college – Eastern Florida State. Ned is from Northern California, while Starks hails from South Florida. Together, they helped EFSC's Titans win 55 games over two seasons and reach the "Elite Eight" round of the 2019 NJCAA Tournament.

McMillan, who played AAU basketball with Sahvir Wheeler, earned All-Region honors in his one season at Kilgore College in Texas after averaging 10.4 ppg and 5.7 rpg.

Johnson, who is consensus top-100 prospect, was the 2019 Georgia Class 5A Player of the Year at Southwest DeKalb High in Decatur before playing at Hargrave Military Academy last season. He averaged 26.2 ppg and 7.4 apg during the 2019-20 season while helping Hargrave to a 27-4 finish.

Taylor's prep career included two seasons at Columbia High in Decatur, Ga., a year at Greensboro (N.C.) Day School and a senior campaign at Norcross High. Last season, he was one of only three players among Gwinnett County's 24 high schools to average a double-double (11.7 ppg and 10.7 rpg).

EDWARDS GOES NO. 1 OVERALL

Anthony Edwards was chosen by the Minnesota Timberwolves with the No. 1 overall pick of the 2020 NBA Draft on Nov. 18.

Anthony Edwards became the Bulldogs' first NBA Lottery pick since Kentavious Caldwell-Pope was the No. 8 player taken in 2013.

Edwards became the Bulldogs' highest draft pick ever, topping Dominique Wilkins, who was selected No. 3 overall in 1982.

"This is an incredibly special night for an incredibly special young man," head coach Tom Crean said. "I know the time and the effort he's put into getting to this point. He's earned it. He works extremely hard. He's dedicated to getting better."

Edwards is the 39th Bulldog to be selected in the NBA Draft and the eighth first-rounder.

Edwards became the sixth SEC player to be chosen No. 1 overall...and the fifth since 2010.

Tom Crean now is one of only two coaches to have top-5 NBA Draft picks at three schools (Dwyane Wade at Marquette No. 5 in 2003, Victor Oladipo at Indiana No. 2 in 2013, Edwards at Georgia No. 1 in 2020).

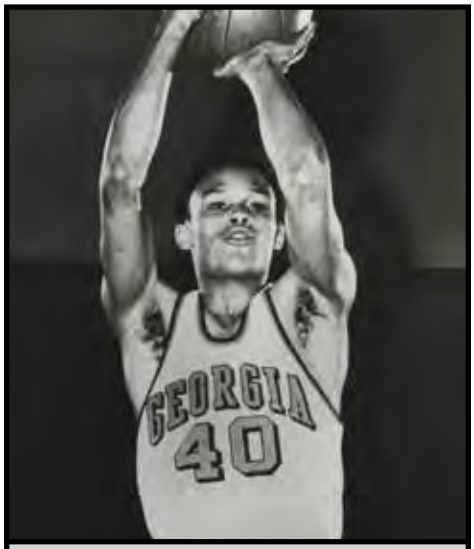
Edwards continued a banner year for Bulldogs in professional drafts. Georgia also had top-10 picks in the NFL (OT Andrew Thomas No. 4 to the New York Giants) and MLB (P Emerson Hancock No. 6 to the Seattle Mariners) in 2020. That trio of Bulldogs represented just the sixth time ever a school has had top-10 picks in the NBA, NFL and MLB drafts in the same year.

DOGS SPEAK ON SOCIAL ISSUES

In addition to the pandemic, social issues dominated the landscape for much of the summer. Several Georgia basketball players, led by Tye Fagan and Sahvir Wheeler, chose to utilize their platform and voice to speak toward needed changes to create a better and more respectful society in general.

Fagan took part in a march in Thomaston, Ga., where he led Upson-Lee High School to back-to-back state titles in 2017 and 2018.

"It's bigger than basketball, it's bigger than me," Fagan said. "A lot of people have lost their lives, a lot of people are upset. A lot of my people are upset and they feel a lot of different ways. I can't blame them because I feel the same way, seeing guys suffer from police brutality or racism or bigotry or whatever you want to call it. Black people have been suffering a lot over the past few months. It's been going on forever but especially over the past few months."



Ronnie Hogue, the first Black men's basketball scholarship student-athlete at UGA, will be honored with a commemorative sticker on the Stegeman Coliseum basket supports during 2020-21. Hogue passed away in September at the age of 69.

A native of Washington, D.C., Hogue arrived in Athens in 1969 and became one of the best players of his time, or any other era of Bulldog basketball.

After averaging 19.1 points for UGA's freshman squad, Hogue burst upon the scene the following year when he averaged 16.2 points and was named to the SEC's All-Sophomore team.

The following year, 1972, Hogue upped his scoring average to 20.5 points per game. On December 20, 1971, he scored for a career-high 46 points against LSU, the most ever by a Bulldog in Stegeman Coliseum and second-highest single-game tally in school history. Equally impressive as the point total, Hogue connected on 20-of-23 shots from the floor versus the Tigers. Hogue was named first-team All-SEC by league coaches. As a senior, Hogue averaged 16.5 points per game.

Hogue finished his Georgia career with 1,367 points in just three seasons. At the time, that ranked second among UGA's all-time scoring leaders.

Hogue was drafted by the Washington Bullets in the seventh round of the 1973 NBA Draft.

Born October 26, 1950, Hogue was a prep All-American who led McKinley Tech High School to the Washington City Championship as a senior. He was named All-Interhigh and All-Metropolitan following his junior and senior seasons at McKinley.

Wheeler discussed a wide variety of topics in an interview with DawgNation.com.

"One of the most important things is this is a time when the country has to pivot, and it has put a magnifying glass on our actions, our deeds and our approach with others in relationships in general," Wheeler said. "It has come to question ourselves: What are we willing to tolerate? What is the catalyst of change? How are we looking upon other people from different walks of life, and how we can take a step forward in progression so everyone can be equal?"

SETTING A STANDARD IS KEY

The end of the 2019-20 season and the build up to the 2020-21 campaign has been like no other in the history of college basketball. Georgia won its first-round matchup in the SEC Tournament on March 11 in convincing fashion, defeating Ole Miss by 18 points. Less than 19 hours later, Georgia's second-round matchup with Florida was cancelled and the Bulldogs were on a plane returning to Athens following the cancellation of all sports.

This year's team arrived on campus in staggered phases in June and July, like every other program, battled through plenty of twists, turns and pivots on a seemingly daily basis. As Georgia's season opener approached, head coach Tom Crean discussed different aspects of the past several months.

Q. How will this team differ from last year's?

"I think we're going to be a different team than last season in a sense that we have three seniors who are all graduate transfers. Justin Kier, P.J. Horne and Andrew Garcia are all going to have to play huge roles for us. We have eight new players. There's no sense of normalcy about anything related to this season, but that's even magnified by having that many new guys. We have to have it collectively. I've told them that with some of our best teams, they might have had stars, but we had balance in the scoring. It wasn't just one or two guys that dominated everything.

"We've got to have a team that on any given night four or five guys in double-figure scoring. We have to be able to play numerous guys so we're really able to push the ball, get out on the break, pressure the ball defensively. We're not a team that's going to out-execute you on a nightly basis because of our experience or because this guy or that guy can go and get 20 on any given night. The execution is going to have to come from the ball movement, from people moving, from bringing fatigue to the game and from having a consistency of toughness which hopefully will in turn give us consistency from our depth. That's how we're going to have to play. I'm looking forward to it. It's been good thus far. There's a lot of room for us to get better, like every other team has at this time of the season, but I've been really happy. I've loved coaching these guys because I know they want to get better."

Q. How did you approach the summer and what were you able to accomplish?

"There was nothing normal about this summer. There was nothing even remotely close to normal as to how you would build your team. So the most important thing that we could do with our skills, our strength – all the things that we could control or the individual player could control – was focus on making sure those things were getting done."

Q. How did you go about building this year's roster, which eventually ended up with more newcomers (eight) than returning players (six)?

"We knew that we need to get older. There was no question about that. There was no way that I wanted to come back as young as what we were. We obviously knew guys would grow in age and go up in classes, but there was no way I wanted to start with no seniors. Youthful inexperience hurt us many times last season. There was a lot of energy and enthusiasm to that, but that was really important. I wanted to get people that had won and people that had had success. I've said this to our staff 10,000 times: we've got to get some compatibility in players so that we can build connections with them together... so that they can connect together. We've got to get people who can be compatible on the court."

Q. With such a young roster last season, what did missing postseason workouts in the spring mean to this year's team?

"I use this as an example a lot. Nic Claxton got so much better last spring inside of those four and a half weeks of work that with what he did on the court with, in the weight room and outside and the extra time he put in. When he left here to start working out with pro teams, it was not shocking whatsoever that the NBA teams were more excited about him. He just attacked the spring. We lost all that. On our current roster, the only guy with a full year of college basketball with us in the program is Tye Fagan. That's tough."

Q. What's the greatest on-court challenge starting the season?

"The greatest challenge is that there are no exhibitions or scrimmages. The only people you've played against are yourselves, and you haven't played in front of anybody. To me, that is by far the hardest with a veteran team. Now, you throw in eight new players and it becomes that much more of a challenge with five returners. It's here. We have to do the best we can. There's going to be a lot of figuring it out as we go, and I love our team, but I have no idea what to expect. I love working with them every day, but tomorrow it becomes different. A lot of things change once you start getting to the game. We just have to start making the adjustments and take it as it comes."

Q. How significant was Anthony Edwards' selection as the No. 1 overall pick in the NBA Draft for Georgia Basketball?

"It was a big-time moment for this program. When you're trying to build on what others have done here before, you've got to have moments that help establish what you want your program to be. I think this is something that everyone who has ever been a part of Georgia Basketball can be proud of. It also shows that you can come to Georgia, and in Anthony's case come to Georgia and stay close to home, and you can achieve all of your dreams. That's really, really important for us."

The palpable excitement Tom Crean brought to his introductory press session as Georgia Basketball's 22nd head coach on March 16, 2018, has continued with his tireless effort to turn the Bulldogs into a national power.

During his initial meeting with the media, Crean enthusiastically professed his appreciation for UGA's reputation as one of the nation's premier public universities, which drew him to the job and his affinity for the Bulldogs' motto. He then laid out his plan to make Georgia one of the nation's premier programs.

"We come in knowing that we're coming into a world-class university," Crean stated. "I've been privileged to work at some great places. This is a world-class university that is world-known for what they do, for what they are about."

Quite a First Two Seasons

Crean's presence within the Georgia program has been extremely impactful, both on and off the court.

Between the lines, Crean's offensive-minded concepts have the Bulldogs scoring a pace seldom seen in Stegeman Coliseum. Georgia has reached the 90-point plateau 11 times in Crean's first 64 games with the Bulldogs. You have to count back 387 games – a span of 11-plus seasons – to equate the time it took the Bulldogs to score 90 or more points prior to Crean's arrival.

As would be expected, those excessive scoring tallies have increased Georgia's overall offensive production. Last season, the Bulldogs put up 75.9 points per game, their highest scoring average since the 2003-04 campaign. Chances of Georgia scoring at an even greater clip this winter are fairly high considering Crean spent a great deal of the offseason preaching that he wanted his Bulldogs to play at an even quicker pace.

A significant influx of talent has been making its way to Athens since Crean arrived. Georgia has inked six consensus top-100 prospects under Crean, as many as the Bulldogs did in the dozen prior recruiting cycles combined. Headlining that ledger was of course Anthony Edwards, the ballyhooed Atlanta native who lived up to his hype en route to winning SEC Freshman of the Year honors before becoming the No. 1 overall pick in the 2020 NBA Draft.

All of the aforementioned has only strengthened the love affair between Crean and the Bulldogs' fan base. In his first season, Georgia broke its all-time total attendance record at Stegeman Coliseum by more than 10,000 fans. A year later, that effort was shattered once again, with a new mark by more than 15,000 spectators. In addition, the Bulldogs' home average of 9,651 fans during the 2019-20 season ranks second all-time in UGA annals.

Back to Day One

Crean touched on the potential for all of the aforementioned during that introductory press conference when he admitted he always kept an eye on the Bulldogs.

"I've always paid attention to Georgia," Crean said. "You can't be in this business of college sports, college basketball, and not have a really good view of what it's all about at this school. I've paid attention from afar, and I've been an admirer from afar. When you're in a sports family like I am, you look at what's happened with the different sports teams and you're paying a lot more attention than just to basketball."

Crean paid homage to the Bulldogs' popular "Commit to the G" catchphrase, realizing that motto also will be one of the focal points of his task at UGA.

"We have got to find a group of people that are going to 'Commit to the G,'" Crean said. "I saw that long before today. I've been in Atlanta enough over the last year, I've seen that on billboards, and I think it's really cool."

The media certainly agreed Crean's press conference was a victory. Jeff Schultz of the Atlanta Journal-Constitution provided the most descriptive offering: "It would've ranked as one of the greatest pre-game speeches of all times if it wasn't just an introductory news conference. Part Zig Ziglar. Part Herb Brooks. Part Knute Rockne...He won the news conference. I was ready to run through a wall for him (or, as a 5-10, 58-year-old, into the wall)."

As a head coach prior to Georgia

Crean arrived in Athens with nearly two decades of experience regularly leading his teams to national rankings and post-season bids.

Crean compiled a 356-231 record in 18 combined seasons at Marquette and Indiana from 1999-2017. Those teams reached postseason play during 13 of those campaigns, with nine NCAA appearances and four NIT bids. Crean led Marquette to the 2003 NCAA Final Four and reached four Sweet 16s at Marquette and Indiana. All told, Crean's teams have been ranked in the Associated Press and/or USA Today polls during 12 seasons, including top-10 finishes in 2003 (No. 6), 2013 (No. 7) and 2016 (No. 9).

Individually, Crean has coached eight players who have won 10 All-America certificates. Thirteen of his players at MU and IU went on to play in the NBA, including nine who were on opening day rosters for the 2018-19 season. Nicolas Claxton joined that ledger in 2019 and Edwards did in 2020 as the amount of money Crean's professional players have either earned or are under contract to earn surged to more than $625 million. Though Crean discusses the forenamed on-court success with great pride, he boasts with an equal amount of vigor that all 52 of his seniors at MU and IU earned a degree.

At Indiana

Crean compiled a 166-135 record in nine seasons at Indiana from 2008-17. His tenure can be broken down into two distinct segments. IU was 28-66 in Crean's first three seasons and 138-69 over the next six.

When Crean arrived in Bloomington, he inherited a program with only one returning player, a pending NCAA probation and scholarship restrictions due to poor academic performance. The Hoosiers faced the loss of two scholarships due to an 866 APR score. Under Crean, IU received an NCAA Public Recognition Award each of his last three years and had a perfect four-year mark of 1,000.

The Hoosiers thrived on the court during the latter two-thirds of Crean's tenure. Indiana won outright Big Ten titles in 2013 and 2016 and were ranked in each of those six seasons, including 11 weeks at No. 1 in 2012-13. During that span, IU also had the most potent offense in the Big Ten, leading the league in scoring (77.8 ppg), field goal percentage (47.7) and 3-point percentage (40.1). In fact, the Hoosiers led all Power 5 schools in field goal percentage in that time frame and in 3-point percentage since Crean joined the Hoosiers.

Crean was named National Coach of the Year in 2012 by ESPN and voted Big Ten Coach of the Year in 2016, the same season he was a finalist for Naismith National Coach of the Year honors. Three Hoosiers earned All-America accolades under Crean - Cody Zeller (2012 & 2013), Victor Oladipo (2013) and "Yogi" Ferrell (2016). At IU, 21 of Crean's Hoosiers graduated, with six – including Oladipo – securing their bachelor's in less than four years and five of those earning master's degrees.

At Marquette

Crean served as head coach at Marquette from 1999-2008, leading the program to the 2003 Final Four and four more NCAA bids. In his nine years with the Golden Eagles, Crean's teams earned five NCAA Tournament bids, one more than the previous four Marquette coaches had in the 16 years prior to his arrival. Marquette also participated in three NITs, reaching the 2004 quarterfinals, and obtained AP top-25 rankings during six of Crean's last seven seasons in Milwaukee. The Golden Eagles earned final national rankings of No. 9 in 2003, No. 12 in 2002, No. 20 in 2007 and No. 25 in 2008.

Crean was named National Coach of the Year in 2002 and Conference USA Coach of the Year in both 2002 and 2003. His star pupil, Dwyane Wade, earned C-USA Player of the Year honors in 2003 as well. Three Golden Eagles earned All-America accolades – Wade (2002 & 2003), Travis Diener (2005) and Dominic James (2007). After Crean departed for Indiana, two of his players were named All-America – Jerel McNeal (2009) and Lazar Hayward (2010).

As an assistant coach

Crean's winning ways were well established before he became a head coach. From 1989-99, Crean was a member of the staffs at Michigan State (under Jud Heathcoate and Tom Izzo), Western Kentucky (under Ralph Willard) and Pitt (also under Willard). Those 10 teams combined to win four regular-season and two conference tournament titles. They also reached postseason play eight times (five NCAAs and three NITs). The season before assuming the reigns at Marquette, Crean helped Michigan State reach the 1999 Final Four.

Personal

A native of Mount Pleasant, Mich., Crean earned his bachelor's in Parks and Recreation with a minor in Psychology from Central Michigan in 1989. While at CMU, Crean coached at Alma College and Mount Pleasant. Crean received CMU's Distinguished Alumni Award in September 2014. He was honored at the 2014 Dick Vitale Gala for his outstanding contributions in support of the V Foundation.

While on the staff at Western Kentucky, Crean met and married the former Joani Harbaugh. They have three children: Megan (25), Riley (21) and Ainsley (15). Joani's father, Jack, and brothers, John and Jim, are highly successful football coaches. Jack was a long-time head coach at WKU, where he won the 2002 Division I-AA national title. In 2013, John (Baltimore Ravens) and Jim (San Francisco 49ers) guided their teams to a historic Super Bowl matchup. John is still with the Ravens, while Jim is currently head coach at Michigan.

TOM CREAN FACTS & FIGURES

MILESTONE VICTORIES

1 Nov. 20, 1999 – Marquette defeats Chicago State, 62-43, in Tom Crean's first game as a collegiate head coach.

50 Feb. 6, 2002 – Marquette tops East Carolina, 70-58, at the Bradley Center behind a team-high 24 points from Dwyane Wade.

79 March 8, 2003 – In the regular-season finale, Marquette secured the Conference USA outright title with a 70-61 victory over Cincinnati.

83 March 29, 2003 – Marquette defeats No. 1 Kentucky, 83-69, in the NCAA Midwest Regional final to advance to the Final Four. The Golden Eagles race to a 45-26 halftime lead at the MetroDome in Minneapolis. Dwyane Wade and Robert Jackson lead the way with 29 and 24 points, respectively.

100 March 6, 2004 – Freshman Dameon Mason's three-point play with eight-tenths of a second left lifts Marquette over No. 25 Louisville, 81-80.

150 Dec. 5, 2006 – Jerel McNeal leads a quartet of Golden Eagles in double figures as Marquette beats Delaware State, 65-48.

191 Nov. 15, 2008 – Indiana defeats Northwestern State, 83-65, at Assembly Hall in Tom Crean's first game as the Hoosiers' head coach.

200 Dec. 8, 2009 – Indiana knocks off Pittsburgh, 74-64, in the Big Ten/ACC Challenge.

227 Dec. 10, 2011 – Christian Watford's 3-pointer at the buzzer lifts Indiana to a 73-72 win over top-ranked Kentucky. The victory is the ninth in a 12-game winning streak to open the 2011-12 season.

250 Nov. 20, 2012 – A day after beating Georgia, 66-53, in the first round, IU tops Georgetown, 82-72, to win the Progressive Legends Classic at Barclays Center.

265 Feb. 2, 2012 – In a top-5 showdown, No. 3 Indiana races to a 41-27 halftime lead en route to an 81-73 win over No. 1 Michigan. Cody Zeller leads five Hoosiers in double digits with 18 points.

271 March 10, 2012 – No. 2 Indiana defeats No. 7 Michigan, 72-71, in the regular-season finale in Ann Arbor to clinch the Big Ten Championship for the Hoosiers. Cody Zeller's layup with 13 seconds left proves to be the game – and outright conference title – clincher.

300 Dec. 20, 2014 – Indiana tops No. 23 Butler, 82-73, as Kevin "Yogi" Ferrell became Indiana's 48th 1,000-point career scorer.

335 March 1, 2016 – No. 12 Indiana knocks off No. 16 Iowa, 81-78, in Iowa City to clinch the Hoosiers' second outright Big Ten title in four seasons.

350 Jan. 15, 2016 – The Hoosiers top Rutgers, 76-57, largely due to a 23-point edge in points off turnovers.

Tom Crean cuts down the nets celebrating IU's 2016 Big Ten title, the Hoosiers' second outright Big Ten crown in a four-season span.

Steve McClain joined the Georgia staff in April 2020 after spending the previous five seasons as head coach at University of Illinois Chicago. McClain, who was a member of Tom Crean's coaching staff at Indiana from 2010-15 arrived in Athens with 38 seasons of collegiate experience, including 18 as a head coach.

McClain led UIC to consistent success. The Flames won 16 or more games during each of his last four seasons, just the second time UIC did so in the program's 73 seasons all time. The Flames earned two postseason bids, reaching the semifinals of the 2017 CBI and finishing as runner-up in the 2018 CIT. UIC also advanced to the title game of the 2020 Horizon League Tournament, a first for the Flames since 2004.

The UIC record books were often updated on McClain's watch, with team season records for points (2,749 in 2016-17), 3-point field goals (303 in 2018-19), rebounds (1,426 in 2016-17), assists (524 in 2016-17) and blocks (242 in 2017-18).

Individually, Flames earned a plethora of Horizon League honors, headlined by Dikembe Dixson as 2016 Freshman of the Year, Tai Odiase as 2017 and 2018 Defensive Player of the Year and Godwin Boahen as 2018 6th Man of the Year. Tarkus Ferguson was named All-Freshman in 2017 and All-Horizon in 2019 and 2020.

While McClain was at Indiana, the Hoosiers earned three NCAA bids, with back-to-back trips to the "Sweet 16" in 2012 and 2013, and won the outright Big Ten Championship in 2013.

McClain also helped Indiana land recruiting classes ranked No. 7 in 2012, No. 4 in 2013 and No. 21 in 2014 and then played a pivotal role in developing NBA lottery picks Victor Oladipo (No. 2 overall by Orlando in 2013), Cody Zeller (No. 4 overall by Charlotte in 2013) and Noah Vonleh (No. 9 overall by Charlotte in 2014). Oladipo and Zeller earned first-team All-America honors, and Oladipo was named 2013 Sporting News National Player of the Year.

Before Indiana, McClain spent three seasons at Colorado, including two as the associate head coach. He helped develop guard Alec Burks, who earned Big 12 Freshman of the Year honors in 2010 and was later selected by the Utah with the No. 12 pick in the 2011 NBA Draft.

McClain was head coach at Wyoming for nine seasons, where he is one of only two coaches to post three consecutive 20-win seasons. McClain led the Cowboys to Mountain West titles in 2001 and 2002 and four postseason appearances. Wyoming reached the 2002 NCAAs and advanced to the Round of 32 after upsetting Gonzaga and also secured NIT bids in 1999, 2001 and 2003.

McClain helped a dramatic turnaround at TCU. The season prior to his arrival, the Horned Frogs finished 7-20. Over the next four seasons, TCU was 81-44 with postseason bids to the 1997 NIT and 1998 NCAA Tournament. In McClain's final season, the Horned Frogs finished No. 15 in the final AP poll after becoming the first team to go undefeated in WAC history and leading the nation in scoring at 97.2 points per game.

McClain compiled a 91-16 (.850) record in three seasons as head coach at Hutchinson Community College, culminating with National Coach of the Year honors after leading the Dragons to the 1994 national title. He served as an assistant coach at Hutchinson for five seasons from 1986-91, helping guide the Dragons to the 1988 national title.

McClain was also an assistant coach at Independence Community College and the head coach at Sioux Empire Junior College. He began his coaching career while still an undergraduate at Chadron State College, his alma mater, from 1982-84.

CHAD DOLLAR

ASSISTANT COACH | MILLIGAN '96 | 3RD SEASON AT GEORGIA

Chad Dollar, an Atlanta native with more than two decades of college coaching experience, was named an assistant coach for the Georgia Bulldogs in April 2018.

Dollar came to Georgia after spending the previous season on the staff at South Florida, where he played during the 1990s. Dollar's résumé includes stints within the SEC at LSU and Auburn.

The Dollar name is a familiar one within Georgia basketball circles. Chad's father, Don, won more than 650 games and three state titles as a high school coach, primarily at Frederick Douglass High in Atlanta. Chad was an all-city performer in 1989 and a second-team all-state honoree in 1990. He and six of his Douglass High School teammates went on to sign Division I scholarships.

Dollar spent the 2016-17 season at Auburn, where the Tigers tallied their most wins (18) since 2008-09, and the five seasons prior to that (2011-16) at Georgia Tech. Dollar was an assistant coach for his first three seasons with the Yellow Jackets before spending the final two as associate head coach.

Dollar was on the staff at Wichita State for the 2010-11 campaign when the Shockers won the NIT and finished 29-8. He spent three seasons as an assistant coach under John Brady, two at Arkansas State (2008-10) and one at LSU (2007-08). Dollar also coached at Murray State (2006-07), Georgia Southern (2002-06), Eastern Kentucky (2000-02) and Western Carolina (1998-2000).

Dollar began his coaching career at Gardner-Webb, serving as a volunteer assistant for one season and a graduate assistant for another. He then moved to the staff at Southern Miss for the 1996-97 season when the Golden Eagles finished 22-11 and reached the NIT.

Dollar also spent two summers coaching with Athletes in Action, assisting with selection of players and conducting of the team's training camps. In 1997, Dollar traveled with AIA to Macedonia and Croatia, while in 2001 he ventured to the Ivory Coast.

Dollar was a three-year letterwinner at South Florida from 1990-93, including teams that reached the 1991 NIT and the 1992 NCAA Tournament. He completed his collegiate playing career at Milligan College (Tenn.). Dollar distributed a what was then school-record 194 assists during the 1994-95 season while helping lead the Buffaloes to a 24-12 finish and their first-ever appearance in the NAIA Tournament.

Dollar earned his bachelor's degree in sociology from Milligan in 1996. Dollar and his wife Kyla have three children – daughters Aliyah and Chloe and a son, Darian.

Dollar's younger brother, Cameron, played at UCLA and helped the Bruins to the 1995 NCAA Championship and is currently an assistant coach at the University of Washington.

GEORGIA	Assistant Coach	2019-

John Linehan, one of the premier defensive players in college basketball history, joined the Georgia Basketball staff as an assistant coach in May 2019.

"I'm excited about adding John Linehan to this staff," head coach Tom Crean said. "I simply love his background and his story. He has a solid foundation in coaching and amazing playing experience. He is the all-time NCAA D-I steals leader, was two-time Big East Defensive Player of the Year and had a long and highly successful professional career overseas. He grew up in the same area as Kobe Bryant, and I heard Kobe say one time that John Linehan was the toughest defender he ever faced.

"The bottom line is, no matter what you're doing, you've got to have people who are making your players better in every facet of their lives on a daily basis, and that's what I think John's going to bring to our staff," Crean continued. "He has attacked recruiting and player development and has a defense-first mentality that has made every program he has been a part of better. We feel he will do the same at UGA"

Linehan has spent the past two seasons as an assistant coach at Hartford following stints at Brown, Drexel and Temple.

"I'm extremely excited to be joining Georgia Basketball," Linehan said. "Tom Crean is a great coach. Being able to work along side him along with Georgia's incredible staff of Chad Dollar and Joe Scott is an amazing opportunity for me to learn and grow as a coach. Also, Georgia is a big-time school with a great reputation, both for its academics and its athletics. I'm excited about the opportunity to help Georgia Basketball grow to even greater heights."

Linehan was one of the most decorated defensive players in NCAA history at Providence. He holds the Division I career record with 385 steals and was the consensus 2002 National Defensive Player of the Year, being honored as such by the NABC, ESPN.com and College Insider.com. Linehan also won the 2002 Bob Cousy Award as the top senior in New England who is less than six-feet tall. He was the Big East Defensive Player of the Year in both 2001 and 2002 while also earning second-team All-Big East honors in each of those seasons.

Linehan led the Big East in steals in conference action during three of his four seasons with the Friars and holds the league single-game steals record with 11 against Rutgers on Jan. 22, 2002.

Linehan enjoyed a long and successful professional playing career from 2002-14. He was named Defensive Player of the Year in France's Pro A League four times with three different teams – in 2005 and 2006 for Paris-Levallois, in 2010 for Cholet and in 2011 for Nancy. Linehan also was the Defensive Player of the Year in Estonia's Pro A League in 2009.

In addition, Linehan played for the Harlem Globetrotters in 2004, for the Dakota Wizards of the Continental Basketball Association and for the Greenville Groove of the NBA D-League.

Prior to his most recent stint at Hartford, Linehan spent the 2016-17 season as an assistant coach at Brown. He was an operations assistant at Drexel during the 2015-16 campaign and worked as a graduate assistant at Temple in 2014-15. Linehan also served as a volunteer assistant for the Delaware 87ers and the Philadelphia 76ers in the summer of 2015.

Two of the five staffs featuring Linehan have advanced to postseason play. At Temple, Linehan helped the Owls post a 26-11 record and reach the semifinals of the NIT. During his tenure at Hartford, the Hawks finished third and fourth in the America East in 2018 and 2019, respectively, and earned a postseason invitation to the CIT in 2018.

Linehan, who earned his bachelor's degree in Health Policy and Management from Providence in 2002, has one son, Jaylen.

BRIAN FISH

DIRECTOR OF PLAYER DEVELOPMENT
MARSHALL '88 | 2ND SEASON AT GEORGIA

Brian Fish joined the staff for the Georgia Bulldogs as Director of Player Development in 2019. Fish sports a long and consistent record of winning basketball at the highest level. He has helped seven programs reach the NCAA Tournament player or a coach. All told, 18 of 35 teams he has been associated with advanced to postseason play when contested.

Prior to arriving in Athens, Fish spent the five seasons as the head coach at Montana State from 2014-19, where he led the Bobcats to numerous team and individual offensive milestones.

On Feb. 11, 2016, during Fish's second season, Montana State connected on 25 3-pointers against Northern Arizona, the third-most ever in NCAA Division I history. In 2016-17, Fish led the Bobcats to their most wins since 2002. That same season, Montana State finished ranked among national leaders in scoring offense (No. 35 at 80.0 ppg) and 3-pointers (No. 10 at 10.0 3pg). In 2019, Montana State led the Big Sky Conference in scoring in league games (81.8 ppg), and the Bobcats won their first Big Sky tourney victory in a decade years.

Fish is the only coach in Big Sky Conference history to sign and coach consecutive Big Sky Freshman of the Year award winners (Tyler Hall in 2015-16, Harald Frey in 2016-17). Hall and Frey went on to finish ranked No. 1 and No. 3, respectively, among Montana State's career scoring leaders. Hall broke the Bobcats' 59-year-old career scoring record, became just the 69th Division I player to reach the 2,500-point plateau and wrapped up his career ranked No. 9 in D-I history with 431 3-pointers.

Fish's career includes a combined 25 seasons at Oregon, Creighton, San Diego, TCU, Kansas State and Marshall, where he helped those schools earn bids to seven NCAA Tournaments, seven NITs and one CBI.

From 2010-14. Fish was an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at Oregon. The Ducks compiled 97 victories and reached postseason play all four seasons, highlighted by a trip to the NCAA "Sweet 16" in 2013.

Fish spent eight seasons during two stints at Creighton, serving as an assistant coach from 2005-09 after being the Bluejays' film coordinator from 1994-96. Creighton earned five postseason bids with Fish, trips to the 2005 and 2007 NCAAs and the 2006, 2008 and 2009 NITs.

Fish was on the staffs at TCU from 1996-2002 – when the Horned Frogs reached the 1998 NCAAs and the 1997 and 1999 NITs – and San Diego from 2002-04. Fish's tenure at San Diego included one season as an assistant coach and another as associate head coach. The Toreros won the 2003 West Coast Conference title to secure an NCAA bid.

Fish was film coordinator for Kansas State teams that reached the 1993 NCAAs and 1994 NIT. He began his career at Marshall as a graduate assistant in 1989 before being promoted to assistant coach.

Fish played for two seasons (1984-86) at Western Kentucky, helping the Hilltoppers an NCAA bid as a sophomore. He transferred to Marshall and was a member of Thundering Herd teams that secured a pair of NCAA appearances and two Southern Conference titles.

A native of Seymour, Ind., Fish was named to the Indiana Basketball Hall of Fame Silver Anniversary Team in 2009 along with 16 other former Indiana standouts such Steve Alford, Gregg Popovich and Scott Skiles.

Fish, who earned his bachelor's degree in Sport Management from Marshall in 1989, and his wife Melyssa reside in Athens.

JAKE THELEN

DIRECTOR OF BASKETBALL OPERATIONS
BELLARMINE '15 | 1ST SEASON AT GEORGIA

Jake Thelen, a former All-American forward at Bellarmine University, joined the UGA staff as director of basketball operations in June 2018. Thelen, 28, is currently the second-youngest DOBO at a Power 5 school.

Thelen (pronounced Thee-lin) works in conjunction with the coaching and support staff to ensure that all team-related needs are met. He assists the coaching staff in developing game strategies, breaking down game film, planning practices and contributing in staff meetings. Thelen coordinates the Bulldogs' daily and weekly basketball calendar and practice schedule, as well as organizes and plans on-campus recruiting visits. Thelen serves as liaison with compliance, academics, facilities, ticket office, business office and equipment personnel and helps oversee the graduate and undergrad managers. He helps coordinate all meals and food for the program, while handling team travel. In addition, Thelen directs both the Tom Crean Basketball camps and coaching clinics the program hosts.

Thelen enjoyed a standout career at Bellarmine, graduating from the Division II school in 2015. He then played professionally in Denmark for Horsens IC for one season before starting his coaching career.

Thelen coached at St. Xavier (Ky.) High School in 2015-16, was a graduate assistant on Tom Crean's staff at Indiana in 2016-17 and was an assistant coach at Bellarmine in 2017-18 before arriving at UGA.

In his one season on the staff at his alma mater, Thelen helped guide Bellarmine to a 29-3 finish. The Knights captured the Great Lakes Valley Conference (GLVC) regular-season and tournament titles and reached the NCAA Tournament for the 10th consecutive campaign.

During his playing career, Thelen was a consensus All-American and was named the GLVC Player of the Year in 2015. The Knights compiled a 31-4 mark during Thelen's senior year and advanced to the Division II Final Four. He was named the Most Outstanding Player of the NCAA Midwest Regional after racking up 24 points and 15 rebounds against Indianapolis in the Regional's championship contest.

Thelen scored 1,412 points at Bellarmine despite playing only three seasons at the school. As a senior, he posted the second-highest point (651) and rebound (375) tallies in school history to average a double-double of 18.6 ppg and 10.7 rpg. As a junior in 2013-14, Thelen connected on a school-record 74.0 percent of his shots from the field.

Thelen started every game of his three seasons at Bellarmine as the Knights compiled a 78-20 record, reached the "Sweet 16" of the NCAA Tournament in 2013 and advanced to the Final Four in 2015.

Thelen began his college career at Spring Hill College in Mobile, Ala., where he averaged 18.5 points and 7.5 rebounds was the Southern States Conference Freshman of the Year. Thelen shot 64.3 percent from the floor that season, third best nationally in NAIA.

A native of Edgewood, Ky., Thelen starred at Covington Catholic High School, where he finished his career as the fourth-leading scorer in school history and was selected to play in both the Kentucky/Indiana and the Kentucky/Ohio All-Star games. Thelen received his bachelor's degree in business administration from Bellarmine in 2015. He is the son of Ashley and John Thelen and the oldest of siblings Hannah (25), Heidi (23), Grace (21) and Nick (20).

SEAN HAYES

ASSOCIATE STRENGTH & CONDITIONING DIRECTOR
SPRINGFIELD '96 | 10TH SEASON AT GEORGIA

Sean Hayes oversees all aspects of the Bulldogs' strength and conditioning program. He has done so since joining the Athletic Association staff as Assistant Strength & Conditioning Director in 2010 and has since been promoted to Associate Director.

Hayes, who sports more than two decades of experience in both the professional and collegiate levels, also works with Georgia's volleyball program and has previously worked with women's golf

Hayes came to Georgia after four seasons in a similar capacity with the NFL's Buffalo Bills. Before his tenure in pro football, Hayes spent more than a decade in intercollegiate athletics.

Most recently on the collegiate level, he served as the strength and conditioning coach for the Clemson basketball team from 2004-06.

Hayes was the first full-time Director of Strength and Conditioning for the entire 41-varsity sport program at Harvard University from 2002-04. He spent three years working with the Crimson's football team, men's and women's basketball teams, as well as both ice hockey squads.

Hayes' other collegiate strength and conditioning positions include stints at Tulsa, Springfield College (his alma mater), Yale and Boston University.

In May 2014, Hayes was awarded the status of Master Strength and Conditioning Coach by the Collegiate Strength & Conditioning Coaches Association, which represents the organization's highest individual honor. He is one of only two SEC men's basketball strength and conditioning coaches who has earned the MSCC recognition.

Hayes was inducted into the Peabody (Mass.) High School Athletic Hall of Fame. He lettered in football, hockey and lacrosse for theTanners. Hayes excelled as goalie for Peabody's lacrosse team and went on to play for Springfield College and the Boston Blazers.

Hayes earned two degrees from Springfield. He received his bachelor's in health fitness in 1996 and then completed a master's in education (applied exercise science) in 1999. Hayes is married to the former Susanne Esteban, and the couple has two daughters Kaylie and Ella.

LANCE SCHUEMANN

ASSOCIATE ATHLETIC TRAINER
FLORIDA '07 | 3RD SEASON AT GEORGIA

Lance Schuemann joined the UGA Athletic Association's Sports Medicine staff in July 2018 as an associate athletic trainer. His primary responsibilities include prevention, immediate care, management, treatment and rehabilitation of athletic injuries for the Georgia Basketball program.

Prior to joining the Georgia staff, Schuemann spent the previous five seasons as the athletic trainer for the men's basketball and women's golf programs at the University of Wyoming. His efforts in Laramie helped translate to an extremely successful run for the Cowboys on the hardwood. Wyoming averaged 20 wins per season and reached postseason play three times from 2013-18. Most notably, the Cowboys won the 2015 Mountain West Conference Tournament to secure an NCAA Tournament bid. They also won the 2017 College Basketball Invitational (CBI) title.

Schuemann was the athletic trainer for the men's basketball and women's tennis teams at Charleston Southern University for two seasons from 2011-13 before moving on to Wyoming.

Schuemann served as an intern athletic trainer at the University of Florida, his alma mater, during the 2010-11 academic year. He worked with the men's basketball and men's tennis programs, which reached the "Elite Eight" and Round of 16 of their respective NCAA Tournaments that year. In addition, Schuemann was an approved clinical instructor while in Gainesville.

From 2008-10, Schuemann was a graduate assistant athletic trainer at Valparaiso University. There his responsibilities were primarily with football and baseball. Before joining the Crusaders' staff, he also worked as an intern athletic trainer with the Florida Marlins during the spring of 2008.

A native of Palm Beach Gardens, Fla., Schuemann received his bachelor's degree in athletic training from Florida in Dec. 2007. He worked as a student athletic trainer for the Gators' men's basketball team that won the 2007 NCAA Championship. Schuemann also earned his master's in sports administration from Valparaiso in May 2010. His certifications include: Corrective Exercise Specialist from the National Association of Sports Medicine (NASM), Board Certification from the National Athletic Trainer Association (NATA), CPR/AED from the American Red Cross and Level 1 status from the Titleist Performance Institute.

HEATHER McCORMICK

DIRECTOR OF BASKETBALL ADMINISTRATION
GEORGIA '94

Heather McCormick, one of the greatest gymnasts in Georgia history as the former Heather Stepp, joined the Georgia Basketball staff as Director of Administration in 2019. She is responsible for administrative and logistical matters within day-to-day operations, alumni relations and liaison to other Athletic Association departments.

McCormick has spent much of her professional career at her alma mater. She served as Director of Administration for Georgia Gymnastics from 2017-19, was a Regional Director of Development and Alumni Relations for UGA from 2011-17, worked as a Career Development Consultant for the Athletic Association from 2007-12 and was Assistant Director of Development from 1996-98.

McCormick is one of Georgia's most decorated student-athletes in any sport. She won three individual NCAA titles (vault in 1992 and 1993 and floor exercise in 1993) and helped the Gym Dogs capture three straight SEC Championships and a national title as a team. McCormick became Georgia's first-ever SEC Gymnast of the Year in 1993 and all told, she earned All-America honors nine times. At the time of her graduation, McCormick held the school record on all five events.

McCormick, a native of Mt. Clements, Mich., was inducted into UGA's Circle of Honor, the Athletic Association's highest all-sport honor, in 2006 and into the State of Georgia's Sports Hall of Fame in 2012.

McCormick's career is even more impressive considering she suffered a season-ending elbow injury while warming up on the vault at a meet in Utah in 1991. McCormick was given just a 10 percent chance of regaining normal use in her arm.

In 1992, McCormick returned to win the vault title at the NCAAs and also finish as runner-up in the all-around. She was unanimously voted to receive the Honda Inspiration Award, which is presented to a female athlete who shows courage, perseverance and determination in overcoming obstacles to compete athletically.

McCormick earned three degrees from UGA: a bachelor's in Accounting (1994), a master's in Sport Management (1996) and a doctorate in Sport Management and Policy (2014). McCormick's husband Matt was a letterwinning linebacker for the Georgia football team. They have two sons, Wade and Shane.

Since that time, McGarity has emphasized exploring new ideas and initiatives designed to move the organization forward in all areas of competition, academics, service, and exceptional experiences for student-athletes and supporters.

McGarity oversees a 21-sport athletics program supported by a budget of $149 million. Since he became Director of Athletics, UGA teams have won seven national championships in women's swimming and diving (2013, '14 & '16), equestrian (2014), women's indoor track and field (2018), men's outdoor track and field (2018) and women's indoor tennis (2019), 21 SEC championships in football (2017), men's tennis (2011, '13, '14, '15, '16 & '17), men's tennis SEC Tournament (2012, '13 & '17), women's tennis (2013 & '19), women's tennis SEC Tournament (2014), women's swimming and diving (2011, '12, '13, '14 & '15), equestrian (2015, '17 & '18) and four SEC eastern division titles in football (2011, '12, '17 & '18). The 2017 football team was also the 2018 Rose Bowl champion and College Football Playoff national runnerup.

During McGarity's tenure as AD, 18 different Georgia teams have been ranked in the nation's top 20 and 10 in the top 10. Georgia's finish in the Learfield Directors' Cup, which annually measures athletic teams success in NCAA championships, has been in the top 25 every year during his tenure and as high as 8th in 2018.

McGarity has also been a standard bearer for academic achievement. Since his arrival, Georgia student-athletes have won 21 NCAA Post Graduate Scholarships, 30 CoSIDA Academic All-American awards, three NCAA Top Ten honors, an NCAA Woman of the Year award, three SEC Boyd McWhoter Scholar-Athlete of the Year winners and numerous other SEC honors.

In addition, McGarity has been at the forefront of facility expansion and renovation which have totaled over $210 million during his tenure with more on the way. The construction of the $30 million William Porter Payne and Porter Otis Payne Indoor Athletic Facility adjacent to the Butts-Mehre Building was completed in January 2017, and provides a facility for use by multiple sports. Currently underway is a $40 million expansion of the Butts-Mehre Heritage Hall, which has served as the administrative center for the Athletic Association, as well as the operational hub for the football program, since 1987.

Completed in July 2018, the $63 million Sanford Stadium west end addition features a new home locker room, recruiting facility and entry plaza connecting the Gillis Bridge to the stadium. Also either completed or under construction in 2018 were $7 million in improvements to Stegeman Coliseum; the Boyd Golf Center expansion; an $8.5 million renovation of the Henry Feild tennis stadium; a $3.5 million equestrian locker room and support facility; and a $1 million overhaul of Sanford Stadium lighting.

Under McGarity's leadership fundraising has reached unprecedented heights. For the 2018 fiscal year, The Georgia Bulldog Club raised a record $80 million in cash and pledges to support UGA Athletics. In September 2015, The Magill Society, a new philanthropic arm was created. The society currently has more 1,000 members who have contributed more than $109 million to support athletic facility projects. The Scholarship Endowment has grown to over $43 million, and five coaching and administrative positions have been endowed.

A 1976 graduate of UGA's Grady College of Journalism and Mass Communication, McGarity is a 2012 inductee into the Grady Fellowship, a recognition program to honor those whose influence, achievements and service to the media professions have enhanced the reputation of the Grady College.

At UF, he served as Executive Associate Athletic Director after serving as an Associate and Senior Associate AD. His duties included assisting with daily operations, assisting in preparation and approval of the annual budget, and extensive involvement in long-term planning, contracts, competition scheduling and employment searches.

McGarity was a letterman on the Bulldog tennis team in 1973. After graduation he began his professional career at UGA, holding positions as assistant sports information director, head women's tennis coach, and Assistant AD for facilities and event management.

JERE W. MOREHEAD

22ND PRESIDENT OF THE UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA

President Jere W. Morehead began his tenure as the 22nd University of Georgia President on July 1, 2013. Under his leadership, the University has risen in the rankings of the best public colleges and universities and has completed a series of initiatives to enhance student learning and success, including a requirement for experiential learning for all undergraduates.

Additionally, the University completed the most successful capital campaign in its history, raising $1.45 billion, and launched an Innovation District initiative to create UGA's campus of the future, where students and faculty will partner with industry to generate ideas and solutions to continue the University's role as a powerful driver of economic development in Georgia. During President Morehead's tenure, UGA has increased its research expenditures by 41% and has been ranked among the top five universities in the U.S. for research-based products reaching the marketplace for the past five years. UGA was ranked No. 1 in the nation for FY2017.

In keeping with his focus on student success, President Morehead launched the ALL Georgia Program to support students from rural areas and created the Double Dawgs program, which enables students to save time and money by earning an undergraduate and graduate degree in five years or less. UGA graduates are in demand: in 2019, 95% of graduates were employed or in graduate school within six months of graduation.

President Morehead has served the University of Georgia since 1986 in both faculty and administrative roles. Before becoming President, he was Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs and Provost from 2010 to 2013. Prior to 2010, he held several key administrative assignments, including Vice President for Instruction, Vice Provost for Academic Affairs, Associate Provost and Director of the Honors Program, and acting Executive Director of Legal Affairs.

He is the Meigs Professor of Legal Studies in the Terry College of Business, where he has held a faculty appointment since 1986. He is a co-author of several books and book chapters, including The Legal and Regulatory Environment of Business, and he has published scholarly articles on legal topics ranging from export controls to jury selection. He has served as Editor-in-Chief of the American Business Law Journal.

President Morehead serves as Co-Chair of the University Leadership Forum, a national initiative led by the Council on Competitiveness. He also serves as a member of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) Board of Governors and the Division I Board of Directors and previously served on the NCAA Presidential Forum; the Working Group on Name, Image, and Likeness; and the Federal and State Legislation Working Group. He is Vice President of the Southeastern Conference (SEC) and a member of the SEC Executive Committee, and formerly chaired the SEC Working Group on Compliance, Enforcement, and Governance. Additional service includes membership on the boards of the Georgia Chamber of Commerce, Metro Atlanta Chamber of Commerce, Georgia Research Alliance, University System of Georgia Foundation, Atlanta Regional Council for Higher Education, and Emory University Candler School of Theology.

He has received several University-wide teaching awards, including the Josiah Meigs Award—UGA's highest honor for teaching excellence, the Richard B. Russell Award for Excellence in Undergraduate Teaching, the Teacher of the Year Award in the Terry College of Business, and the Lothar Tresp Outstanding Honors Professor Award.

President Morehead holds a bachelor's degree from Georgia State University and a law degree from the University of Georgia.

2019-20 SEASON HIGHLIGHTS:

◊ One of only five Bulldogs to to see action in all 32 games.
◊ Moved into the starting lineup for the 10th game of the campaign against SMU on Dec. 20 and got the nod for the final 23 contests, including every SEC outing.
◊ Also started both exhibition games.
◊ Averaged 6.6 points and 4.3 boards per game, while playing 24.0 minutes.
◊ Tied for the team high (along with Anthony Edwards) in blocks with 18 rejections.
◊ Led or tied for the team-high tally in blocks 11 times, the most of any Bulldog.
◊ Saw a considerable uptick in his production after moving into the starting lineup. After averaging 4.6 ppg, 3.3 rpg and 16.0 mpg while shooting 41.9 percent from the field in the first nine games, upped those efforts to 7.3 ppg, 4.7 rpg and 27.0 mpg while shooting 51.percent in the final 23 contests.
◊ After producing one double-digit outing in the first 16 games, recorded seven double-figure performances in the last 16 contests.
◊ Usually reached double figures in efficient fashion, shooting 59.0 percent (36-of-61) from the field and 70.4 percent (19-of-27) from the line in the seven games where he scored 10 or more points.
◊ Chipped in nicely at the Maui Jim Maui Invitational, averaging 6.7 ppg and 3.7 rpg while shooting 58.3 percent from the floor in a trio of outings.
◊ Reached double figures for the first time in his collegiate career with 16 points against Georgia Southern.
◊ Was a perfect 8-of-8 from the field en route to a career-high 16 points against the Eagles, becoming the first UGA player to be perfect on FGs while attempting at least eight shots since Jonas Hayes vs. Florida A&M on Dec. 2, 2003
◊ Produced one of only eight perfect shooting performances from the field by a Power-5 conference player in 2019-20 while putting up at least eight shots.

2019-20 SEASON HIGHLIGHTS:

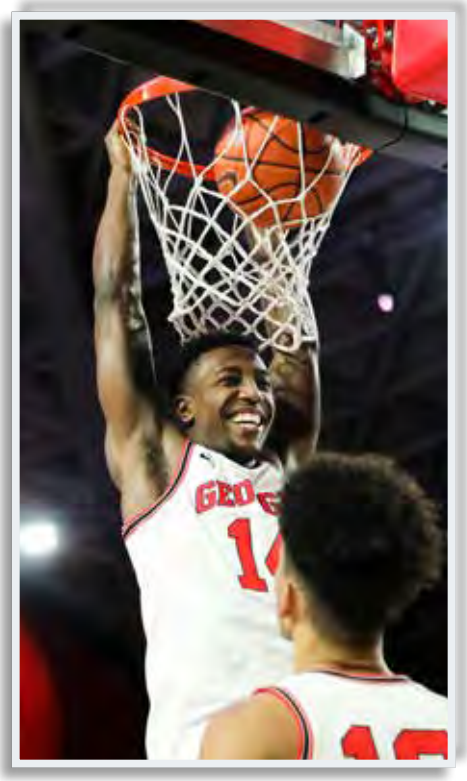
◊ One of five Bulldogs who played in all 32 games.
◊ Averaged 4.1 points and 1.7 rebounds per game while shooting a team-best 56.0 percent from the floor.
◊ Logged double-figure minutes played tallies in 22 contests.
◊ Posted a trio of double-figure scoring outputs, including team-high outputs of 11 points against Dayton in the opening round of the Maui Jim Maui Invitational and 15 at Arizona State.
◊ Was extremely efficient en route to his double-digit outputs. In that trio of contests, connected on 81.0 percent (17-of-21) of his shots from the field.
◊ Recorded two of Georgia's three perfect shooting performances from the floor with five or more made shots – 6-of-6 at Kentucky and 5-of-5 versus Dayton.
◊ In UGA's two exhibition outings against Valdosta State and at Charlotte, was perfect from the field (4-of-4) and the line (3-of-3).
◊ Equaled his career high with a game-high four assists versus Western Carolina in the season opener.
◊ Posted his first double-figure scoring output at UGA (a team-high 11 points) on a perfect shooting effort (5-of-5 FGs & 1-of-1 3FGs) against Dayton.
◊ Upped that effort to 15 points at Arizona State, where he scored 11 second-half points in 10 minutes of action.
◊ Scored 15 points in just 15 minutes of action at No. 15/14 Kentucky.
◊ Grabbed a season-best six rebounds – to go along with eight points – in a season-high 21 minutes of PT at LSU in the regular-season finale.

2018-19 SEASON HIGHLIGHTS:

◊ Logged playing time in 31 of 32 games, with a trio of starts at the Cayman Islands Classic.
◊ Converted on 51.7 percent of his field goals and all 10 of his trips to the line.
◊ Led the Bulldogs in assists in two games, in steals twice and in blocks once.
◊ Posted his best scoring efforts (eight points) in three-straight early-season outings – at Temple, vs. Sam Houston State and vs. Illinois State. Shot a combined 72.7 percent (8-of-11) from the field on those contests.
◊ Christened his career with a thorough linescore – three points, three boards, four assists, a block and a steal – in the season opener against Savannah State.
◊ The loss at Temple on Nov. 13 was Fagan's first representing his school in 66 games ...dating back to his sophomore year at Upson Lee High. Prior to setback in Philly, his last "L" was on Feb. 17, 2016... amazingly, a span of exactly 1,000 days.
◊ Secured his first collegiate start against Illinois State and logged 36 minutes against the Redbirds.
◊ Knocked down a 3-pointer from the left corner with 11:38 left at Florida to put Georgia up 41-39...the Bulldogs never trailed thereafter.
◊ Logged double-digit minutes in eight of 19 outings against SEC competition, with a high of 16 versus Missouri in the SEC Tournament.

HIGH SCHOOL HIGHLIGHTS:

◊ Coached by Darrell Lockhart at Upson-Lee.
◊ Named the Class 4A State Player of the Year as both a junior and a senior after leading the Knights to back-to-back state titles and undefeated seasons.
◊ Tabbed second-team All-Georgia in 2018 by USA Today, the organization's all-classification, all-state team.
◊ Ranked as the No. 10 overall prospect in Georgia, the nation's No. 18 combo guard and the No. 205 overall prospect nationally by 247Sports.com.
◊ Upson-Lee was a combined 63-0 during Fagan's junior and senior campaigns.
◊ The Knights' 63-game winning streak is the third-longest in boys' basketball history for Georgia high schools.



- Scored a school-record 2,038 points for Upson-Lee.
- As a senior, averaged 25.0 points, 7.3 rebounds, 4.6 assists, 2.4 steals and 1.5 assists for 31-0 Upson-Lee.

STONY BROOK HIGHLIGHTS:

◊ Played in 77 games over three seasons, with 35 starts.
◊ Scored 780 career points for the Seawolves, a double-digit average of 10.1 ppg, along with 414 rebounds (5.4 rpg), 86 assists and 72 steals.
◊ Helped produce a dramatic turnaround at Stony Brook. After the Seawolves went 13-19 his freshman season, they were a combined 44-22 during his sophomore and junior campaigns.
◊ All told, posted 40 double-figure scoring outputs at Stony Brook, with five 20-point performances.
◊ Notched nine double-digit rebound counts, leading to nine double-doubles.
◊ Recorded a career-high 24 points twice – at Northern Iowa in 2018-19 and at Binghamton in 2019-20 – and a career-most 12 rebounds at Hofstra in 2019-20.
◊ Earned America East postseason accolades in both 2020 (second-team All-America East) and 2019 (Sixth Man of the Year).

2019-20 SEASON HIGHLIGHTS:

◊ The only member of the Seawolves' roster to start all 33 games.
◊ Named second-team All-America East.
◊ Notched 25 double-figure scoring outputs and six double-digit rebound counts.
◊ Posted a half-dozen double-doubles, the seventh-best single-season tally in school history.
◊ Among America East statistical leaders, ranked No. 14 in scoring, No. 9 in rebounding, No. 5 in steals, No. 6 in field goal percentage and No. 6 in free throw percentage.
◊ Was the Seawolves' third-leading scorer (438 points) while leading the team in both rebounds (220) and steals (53) and finishing second in assists (63).
◊ In America East play, improved all of his statistical averages from his overall numbers...scoring (+0.6 to 14.0 ppg), rebounding (+0.5 to 7.2 rpg), steals (+0.3 to 1.9 spg) and assists (+0.5 to 2.4 apg).
◊ Recorded the Seawolves' first double-double of the season with 18 points and a career-high 12 rebounds at Hofstra on Dec. 10.

2018-19 SEASON HIGHLIGHTS:

◊ Logged action in all 33 games, with a pair of starts.
◊ Named the America East Conference Sixth Man of the Year
◊ Posted 15 double-figure scoring outputs, including a career-best 24 in an upset at Northern Iowa.
◊ Recorded a trio to double-digit rebounding efforts and three double-doubles.
◊ More than tripled his scoring average (2.9 ppg to 9.4 ppg) and double his rebounding efforts (2.2 rpg to 5.1 rpg) from his redshirt freshman year.
◊ Opened the season on a tear and was named America East Player of the Week twice – on Nov. 26 and Dec. 31 – before the calendar rolled over.
◊ Scored 14 points in Stony Brook's improbable win at George Washington in the season opener, when the Seawolves fell behind 22-0 to open the game.
◊ In his lone outing against SEC competition prior to arriving in Athens, had 11 points, two boards, two assists and a block in 19 minutes of action in an 83-81 upset at South Carolina on Nov. 9, 2018.
◊ Earned his initial POTW honor after posting his first career double-double against Molloy (20 points, 10 boards) on Nov. 21 and following that with 14 points in a 68-58 victory at Rhode Island on Nov. 24.
◊ Honored as POTW for a second time after exploding for a career-high 24 points in his first career start, a 73-63 win at Northern Iowa on Dec. 29.
◊ Connected on 9-of-9 shots from the field, including 4-of-4 attempts from behind the 3-point arc, against the Panthers.

2017-18 SEASON HIGHLIGHTS:

◊ Played in 11 contests and averaged 2.9 ppg and 2.2 rpg in 11.0 minutes per game.

◊ Made his collegiate debut against Norfolk State on Dec. 30 after missing the first 13 games of the campaign while continuing to complete rehab from a right knee injury originally suffered during his senior season of high school.

◊ Fell just shy of reaching double figures in the scoring column in his initial outing with the Seawolves, scoring nine points in 16 minutes of PT against the Spartans.

◊ Matched his season high offensive output with nine points against Albany.

2016-17 SEASON HIGHLIGHTS:

◊ Did not play and took a medical redshirt after undergoing surgery on his right knee at the start of the season.

MISCELLANEOUS STATS

DOUBLE-DIGIT POINTS:	14
DOUBLE-DIGIT REBOUNDS:	0

VIRGINIA TECH HIGHLIGHTS:

◊ Played in 89 outings in three seasons with the Hokies, with 35 career starts – one as a freshman, four as a sophomore and 30 as a junior.

◊ Tallied 467 points (5.2 ppg) and 265 rebounds (3.0 rpg) in 1,601 minutes (18.0 mpg) while at Tech.

◊ Notched 14 total double-figure scoring outputs, with eight of those coming in the 2019-20 campaign.

◊ Helped Virginia Tech reach consecutive NCAA Tournaments in 2018 and 2019, including the Hokies' advancement to the "Sweet 16" as a sophomore.

◊ Posted career-high efforts of 18 points (at Pitt on Feb. 15, 2020) and seven rebounds (four times).

2019-20 SEASON HIGHLIGHTS:

◊ Started 30 of 32 games, the second-highest number of nods for any Hokie.

◊ Entered the season with a career high of 30 minutes (and that actually was rounded up from logging 29:33 against Maryland-Eastern Shore) but notched 30-plus minutes 15 times as a junior.

◊ Led VT offensively in four games, in boards in three contests, in blocks a team-high 12 outings and in steals five times.

◊ Increased his overall production by eye-catching numbers, upping his averages for scoring (+4.3 ppg), rebounding (+2.0 rpg) and minutes (+15.0 mpg). Also improved his totals tallies for blocks (+13), steals (+18) and 3-pointers (+44).

◊ Remarkably, went from making a single 3-pointer (on 12 attempts) as a sophomore to connecting on 44 (at a 34.9 percent percentage) as a junior.

◊ After making just one 3-pointer as a sophomore, opened the season with a nine-game streak with at least one make from behind the arc.

◊ After making just three 3-pointers in his first two seasons with the Hokies, knocked down three or more 3-pointers seven times in 2019-20.

◊ Was on the same side of the bracket as Georgia for the Maui Jim Maui Invitational but did not face the Bulldogs after Tech upset No. 3 Michigan State in the Hokies' first-round matchup.

◊ Posted his first double-figure scoring output in ACC action with 15 points against Duke on Dec. 6.

◊ Logged a career-most 43 minutes of action in a 79-77, double-overtime win over North Carolina on Jan. 22.

◊ Knocked down a pair of free throws with 13 seconds left in regulation to help extend the contest against the Tar Heels.

◊ Extremely efficient en route to his career-high 18 points versus Pittsburgh on Feb. 15, connecting on 6-of-9 shots from the field including 4-of-6 3-pointers.

◊ Collected five steals in a victory over Clemson on March 4, the highest single-game theft tally by any Virginia Tech player during the 2019-20 season.

◊ Paced the Hokies offensively in the final two regular-season games, putting up 17 points at Clemson and following that with 14 at Notre Dame on March 7.

2018-19 SEASON HIGHLIGHTS:

◊ Named to the ACC Academic Honor Roll, which recognizes student-athletes who registered a 3.0 grade point average or higher for the full academic year.

◊ Logged action in 29 games, including a quartet of starts, and averaged 3.3 points and 2.2 rebounds in 13.3 minutes of action per game.

◊ Converted on a team-best 57.5 percent of his field goals, connecting on 42-of-73 shots from the floor.

◊ Helped the Hokies reach the "Sweet 16" round of the NCAA Tournament and finish with a 26-9 record.

◊ Tech was 4-0 in games he started...versus Central Connecticut, VMI, Maryland-Eastern Shore and Wake Forest.

◊ Missed six games – a span from Jan. 21 at North Carolina through Feb. 9 at Clemson – due to an undisclosed injury.

2019-20 SEASON HIGHLIGHTS:

◊ Logged playing time in 31 of 32 contests, missing a Jan. 28 date at Missouri after suffering an upper-body injury in practice the day before the game.
◊ Moved into the Bulldogs' starting five at Auburn on Jan. 11 and remained there for all 17 games he played in thereafter.
◊ Broke Georgia's freshman assist record by distributing 139 passes-to-points, topping the old mark of 133 established by Litterial Green in 1989.
◊ Equaled the No. 14 overall single-season assist effort ever by a Bulldog, tying Willie Anderson's total of 139 during the 1987-88 campaign.
◊ Finished third on the team in both scoring (9.0 ppg) and playing time (27.3 mpg).
◊ Notched 11 double-digit scoring outputs, also the third-most of any Bulldog.
◊ Led or tied for the team-high tally in assists for 24 of 31 games played, the highest number of instances by any Bulldog.
◊ Finished the season ranked No. 87 nationally in assists per game (4.5 apg), sixth-best effort among all D-I freshmen.
◊ Among SEC leaders, finished the season ranked No. 4 in assists (4.5 apg) and No. 6 in assist-to-turnover ratio (1.53).
◊ Distributed Georgia's single-game 2019-20 high for assists – eight – on four occasions – against The Citadel, SMU, Alabama and Ole Miss in the SEC Tournament.
◊ Consistently improved at the line during the season...after shooting just 57.7 percent in non-conference games converted 73.6 percent in league action.
◊ Scored 19 points in the season opener against Western Carolina, equaling the third-most ever by a UGA freshman in their debut, trailing only Dominique Wilkins (26) and Anthony Edwards (24) and tying Terry Fair (19 in 1979).
◊ Flirted with a double-double against The Citadel, with 10 points and eight assists.
◊ Came up huge with a couple of layups at the end of both overtime periods versus SMU. Scored with four seconds left in the first extra period to tie the score and extend the game. Split two defenders and scored with 1.9 seconds remaining in second OT to secure the victory.
◊ Named SEC Freshman of the Week on Dec. 23 for his effort against SMU.
◊ Earned his first start – the fourth Georgia freshman to earn the nod during 2019-20 – at Auburn and remained for every game he played thereafter.

Game-by-game breakdown on Page 8.

Georgia's 2019-20 season came to an abrupt halt on March 12 when the remainder of the college basketball season was canceled due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

The previous evening, the Bulldogs notched an impressive 81-63 victory over Ole Miss in the opening round of the SEC Tournament, their most decisive win over a league foe during the 2019-20 campaign.

Georgia was set to face Florida on the afternoon of March 12; however, approximately 30 minutes before the team was scheduled to depart for the Bridgestone Arena in Nashville, the tournament – along with much of the rest of the world – came to a screeching stop.

Tom Crean, who informed the Bulldogs of the cancellation just before a film session, stated: "The most important thing that they can learn from all this is that when they are responsible for their families someday, that they will always put their safety, their health and their well-being at the front of everything."

The victory improved Georgia to 16-16 on the season, but the Bulldogs were deprived of a chance to further their campaign. Georgia was 4-3 over its last seven contests of the season, with wins over a pair of potential NCAA Tournament participants, No. 13 Auburn and Arkansas.

GEORGIA EARNS HISTORIC ROAD WIN

The Bulldogs were 2-4 in games against ranked opponents during the 2019-20 season, including a road victory with solid historical implications. While most of the SEC opened league play on Jan. 4, Georgia was busy upsetting No. 9 Memphis.

The win over the Tigers represented the Bulldogs': 1) second-ever road victory over a ranked non-conference foe in Georgia Basketball history – the first since topping No. 7 Louisville, 73-70 in overtime, on Dec. 29, 1977; 2) first win over a top-10 foe since defeating No. 10 Kentucky, 77-70, on Jan. 8, 2011; and 3) first road win over a top-10 opponent since beating No. 5 Kentucky, 65-57, in Lexington on Jan. 17, 2004.

EDWARDS EARNS MULTIPLE HONORS

Anthony Edwards, who was the nation's top-scoring freshman during the 2019-20 season averaging 19.1 ppg, secured a slew of postseason accolades.

Most notably, Edwards was named the SEC Freshman of the Year in balloting league coaches, the first Bulldog to win that award since its inception in 2001. He was voted the SEC Newcomer of the Year by the Associated Press, the third Bulldog to earn that recognition following Jumaine Jones in 1998 (in the award's first year) and Jarvis Hayes in 2002.

Tyree Crump's thrilling 35-foot buzzer-beater lifted the Bulldogs to an 80-78 victory over Vanderbilt in Nashville.

Edwards also was tabbed the State of Georgia's Player of the Year by the Atlanta Tipoff Club. He is the ninth Bulldogs to claim the honor and the fourth UGA winner in the last five years.

Postseason recognitions also earned by Edwards included being: tabbed as one of five finalists for the Jerry West National Shooting Guard of the Year award; named second-team All-SEC by league coaches and the AP; selected All-District by both the USBWA and NABC; and headlining the SEC All-Freshman by league coaches. He was honored as the SEC Freshman of the Week a school-record four times, being selected on Dec. 2, Jan. 3, March 2 and March 9.

DOGS PUTTING UP BIG DIGITS

Georgia reached the 90-point scoring mark seven times during the 32 games of the 2019-20 season...and has done so 11 times during Tom Crean's first 64 games as the Bulldogs' head coach.

Prior to Crean's arrival, Georgia scored 90 or more points 11 times in 11-plus seasons combined, a span of 387 games.

The Bulldogs scored 91, 95 and 100 points in their first three games of 2019-20 – the first time Georgia scored 90 or more three times in a row since December of 2006.

Georgia's scoring has been relatively consistent throughout season. The Bulldogs' scoring average of 75.9 points per game was their highest since averaging 79.2 points during the 2002-03 season.

FANS FLOCKING TO STEGEMAN

The Stegeman Coliseum turnstiles have been quite busy since Tom Crean's arrival.

This season, the Bulldogs broke their all-time home attendance record for the same time in as many years and recorded the second-best average attendance in school history as outlined to the right.

The Bulldogs broke last year's total turnstile count at Stegeman Coliseum by 15,371. Georgia drew 11 crowds of 10,000-plus fans this season, also a school record. Previously, the most tallies of 10,000 or more fans was nine during the 2002-03 season.

An outstanding indicator that the Bulldogs would draw well this season ocurred in October when Crean announced that had Georgia sold out the season ticket allotment for Stegeman for the first time ever.

Single-game tickets also moved rapidly as six of Georgia's nine SEC home dates were sold out before conference play started and another contest also became a sellout.

The Bulldogs were 12-5 at Stegeman this season and Crean credited the arena atmosphere as a major factor in several games, most notably a double-overtime decision over SMU and an upset of No. 13/12 Auburn.

"We don't win this game without this crowd," Crean said bluntly in his postgame press conference after beating the Mustangs. "We do not win this game without this incredible, passionate, stick-with-us, not let us drop crowd. I reminded the players a few times that we're sitting here in basically a sold-out game, and these fans are not giving up on you, so don't give up on yourself. I'm extremely proud of how we found a way to win, and I'm unbelievably thankful for our fans."

And after Auburn win, Crean opened his postgame radio show with: "The fans were here and on their feet. The win is awesome, there's no question about it, and I'm happy for our team, but the bottom line is that shows we're building a program. We are going through growing pains and hard days. We are going through adversity. But you don't get a program built if you lose momentum with your fans. They are staying with us, and I'm so thankful for that. To have everybody here like that supporting us on a Wednesday night means an awful lot. So thank you Dawg Nation, from the bottom of my heart and all of this team."

EDWARDS SCORES AT HISTORIC PACE

Anthony Edwards finished the 2019-20 campaign tied for the No. 7 spot among Georgia's all-time single-season scoring leaders and at No. 10 on the list of the SEC's top-scoring freshmen ever as outlined in the next column.

Edwards' scored 610 points in his 32 games with the Bulldogs, notching 27 double-digit scoring outputs, 17 20-point performances and a trio of 30-point efforts. He finished the season ranked No. 47 nationally in scoring average, best among freshmen and one of only three players in the top 100.

NASHVILLE SUPPLIES TOP-10 PLAYS

Georgia played two games in Nashville during the 2019-20 season. In those contests, the Bulldogs produced a combined four top-10 plays for ESPN's SportsCenter.

On Feb. 22, Anthony Edwards' thunderous first-half drive and dunk was judged to be the No. 1 play of the day, while Tyree Crump's 35-foot, buzzer-beater to defeat the Commodores came in at No. 6.

From the Bulldogs' win over Ole Miss in the SEC Tournament, Sahvir Wheeler's half-court, buzzer-beater to end the first half was the top play, and a Jordan Harris block of a dunk attempt occupied the No. 9 slot.

A FEW MORE TIDBITS

- Sahvir Wheeler's 139 assists broke Litterial Green's UGA freshman record. Green had 133 assists in 1988-89.
- The scoring outputs of Anthony Edwards (24 points) and Sahvir Wheeler (19) in the season opener represented the second- and third-most ever by a Bulldog freshman in their collegiate debut.
- Georgia's nine freshman represented the third-largest freshman class in D-I.
- Georgia ended the season with a victory for the first time since winning the third-place contest of the 1998 NIT.

Rayshaun Hammonds double-double of 15 points and 12 rebounds led Georgia to a 65-62 upset at No. 9 Memphis on Jan. 4, 2020. The victory was just the Bulldogs' second-ever road win over a ranked non-conference opponent. Georgia's only other road win over an AP top-25 team came on Dec. 29, 1977, when the Bulldogs upset No. 7 Louisville, 73-70, in the championship of the Louisville Classic.

2008 SEC TOURNAMENT CHAMPIONS

Terrance Woodbury (above left) and MVP Sundiata Gaines (above right) led Georgia to the 2008 SEC Tournament championship with an unforgettable run that included two games in one day. After knocking off Ole Miss in overtime on Thursday, a category F2 tornado struck downtown Atlanta on the night of March 14 shortly before the Bulldogs were to take on Kentucky. It forced postponement of that second-round game, and the tournament's remainder was played at Alexander Memorial Coliseum (top), home court of arch-rival Georgia Tech. Georgia defeated both the Wildcats and Mississippi State on March 15 and then outlasted Arkansas in the championship game on March 16.

The late Alec Kessler, an All-America forward at Georgia in 1989-90, arguably rates among the top scholar-athletes in collegiate history. Kessler, a 3.91 student in Microbiology, was twice named the U.S. Basketball Writers Scholar-Athlete of the Year. For being so honored, Kessler was awarded a pair of $20,000 post-graduate scholarships. Kessler, who played four seasons for the NBA's Miami Heat, in 1991 donated all $40,000 from these scholarships to UGA's general scholarship fund.

Each SEC school annually selects a Legend who made outstanding contributions on and off the court and brought notoriety, prestige and honor to both their school and the SEC. The Legends are recognized at the SEC Tournament.

DOMINIQUE WILKINS

Known as the "Human Highlight Film," Dominique Wilkins arrived in Athens in 1979 and helped take Georgia Basketball to new heights.

Individually, Wilkins was a two-time All-American and a three-time All-SEC honoree. He was also tabbed both SEC Player of the Year and MVP of the SEC Tournament in 1981.

From a team perspective, Wilkins led Georgia to the 1981 NIT, the Bulldogs' first postseason appearance. A year later, he helped Georgia advance to the NIT semifinals.

Wilkins entered the NBA Draft after his junior year. He was the No. 3 overall pick by the Utah Jazz but soon thereafter traded to the Atlanta Hawks. Wilkins played the majority of his career with the Hawks, where he was a nine-time All-Star, a seven-time All-NBA selection and a two-time slam dunk champion.

In 1991, Wilkins became the first Bulldog to have his jersey – No. 21 – retired by Georgia.

Wilkins was inducted into the Georgia Sports Hall of Fame in 2004, was a member of the Atlanta Sports Hall of Fame's inaugural class in 2005, was Georgia Basketball's first inductee into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in 2006 and was inducted into the National Collegiate Basketball Hall of Fame in 2016.

HUGH DURHAM

During 17 seasons at Georgia, Hugh Durham elevated Georgia Basketball to a national stage.

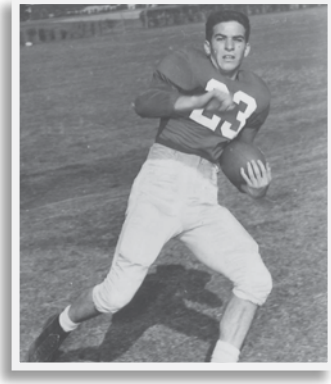
Durham is UGA's winningest coach with 297 victories. Prior to his arrival, Georgia had never received a postseason bid in 74 seasons. The Bulldogs reached postseason play 11 times during Durham's tenure and also won their first SEC Tournament in 1983 and SEC Championship in 1990. He was named SEC Coach of the Year three times – in 1985, 1987 and 1990.

In UGA's initial NCAA Tournament appearance in 1983, the Bulldogs advanced to the Final Four. Durham's Dogs defeated St. John's and North Carolina to win the East Regional before falling to eventual champion N.C. State.

Durham posted 633 career victories in 37 seasons, with 230 at Florida State and 106 at Jacksonville bookending his wins at Georgia. He was the first coach in Division I history to take two schools to their first Final Four and just the sixth to reach the Final Four at two schools.

Durham was inducted into the FSU Hall of Fame 1980, the Kentucky High School Hall of Fame in 1994, the Florida Sports Hall of Fame in 1999, the Georgia Sports Hall of Fame in 2009, the Kentucky Sports Hall of Fame in 2012 and the National Collegiate Basketball Hall of Fame in 2016.

ZIPPY MOROCCO



Anthony "Zippy" Morocco came to Athens from Youngstown, Ohio and became UGA's first All-American in basketball and one of the Bulldogs' best two-sport performers ever.

Morocco led the SEC in scoring in 1953 at 23.6 points per game on 590 points, breaking the existing SEC mark of 540 points by Kentucky's Cliff Hagan. He led the Bulldog football team in kickoff returns three consecutive years and in punt returns twice. He also was Georgia's top receiver in 1950 and averaged over 10 yards every time he touched the ball.

Morocco was enshrined the state of Georgia's Sports Hall of Fame in 1986.

WILLIE ANDERSON

Former Bulldog Willie Anderson was enshrined in the State of Georgia Sports Hall of Fame in 2020.

Anderson, who came to UGA from East Atlanta High School, blossomed into one of the country's most diverse talents in the late-80s. After averaging 3.3 and 8.5 points off the bench as a freshman and sophomore, respectively, Anderson moved into the Bulldogs' starting five as a junior. He averaged 15.9 points, 5.0 assists and 1.4 steals per game in 1986-87. In his final season in Athens, Anderson averaged 16.7 points, 4.0 assists and 1.9 steals while leading the Bulldogs to a 20-win finish.

Anderson earned a spot on the 1988 U.S. Olympic Team and won a Bronze Medal in the Seoul Games.

Anderson was drafted by San Antonio Spurs with the No. 10 overall pick of the 1988 NBA Draft and earned a spot on the first team of the NBA's All-Rookie team in 1989.

Anderson went on to play nine seasons in the NBA, the first seven with the Spurs followed by stints with with the Toronto Raptors, New York Knicks and Miami Heat.

UGA CIRCLE OF HONOR

ZIPPY MOROCCO – 2002
JARVIS HAYES – 2020

The Circle of Honor is designed to pay tribute to extraordinary student-athletes and coaches who by their performance and conduct have brought honor to the university and themselves, and who by their actions have contributed to the tradition of the Georgia Bulldogs. The criteria for selection also stipulate that each recipient has earned his or her academic degree.

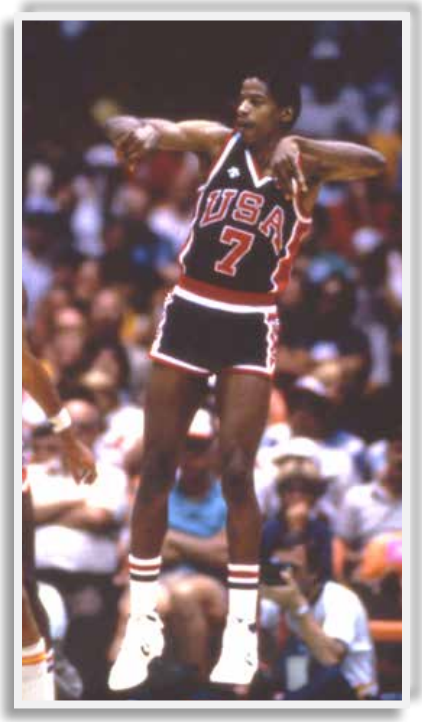
VERN FLEMING

1984 OLYMPIAN
LOS ANGELES GAMES



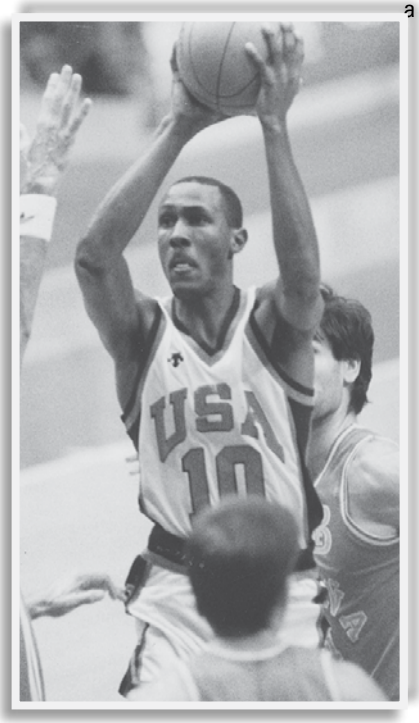
Vern Fleming, one of the finest Bulldog performers in history, made his mark at every level of competitive basketball. In 1984, he earned a spot on the U.S. Olympic Team and played a large role in its Gold Medal-winning effort. Fleming averaged 7.7 points during the Los Angeles Olympics, connecting on 51.1 percent of his shots. He also tallied 19 rebounds, 19 assists and nine steals.

Many consider the 1984 Americans as the finest amateur assemblage in the sport's history. The squad featured future Naismith Hall of Fame inductees Michael Jordan, Chris Mullin and Patrick Ewing.

From 1984-95, Fleming was a standout player for the NBA's Indiana Pacers.

WILLIE ANDERSON

1988 OLYMPIAN
SEOUL GAMES



Willie Anderson was a star performer of the 1987 and 1988 Bulldogs, leading the '87 squad to an NCAA Tournament berth.

In 1988, Anderson was selected to the U.S. Olympic Team and in the same year was the first-round draft pick of the San Antonio Spurs. The Americans earned a bronze medal at the Seoul Olympics. Anderson averaged 5.0 points per game while pacing the squad by shooting 64.0 percent from the field. He also added 13 rebounds, six assists, six steals and four blocks.

Anderson returned from Seoul and played seven years for the Spurs before doing stints with Toronto, New York and Miami to round out his 10-year career in the league.

JUMAINE JONES

GOODWILLGAMES
NEW YORK, N.Y.

The 6-7 forward put an exclamation mark on his outstanding freshman season at Georgia by making the 12-man U.S. team for the Goodwill Games. Jones later started all five games for the Americans and averaged 7.4 points for the gold medal winners.

TREY THOMPKINS

2009
U19 WORLD
CHAMPIONSHIPS
AUCKLAND

Eighteen years had gone by since the American Under 19 team had won its last gold medal at this 2-week tournament. The rising Georgia sophomore played a key role in restoring the Yanks to the winner's circle. Thompkins averaged 10.6 points – second-best on the team – and 5.1 rebounds per game. He also had the Americans' highest single-game scoring effort when he poured in 22 in a 4th-round win over Greece. The U.S. team won all nine of its games by an average margin of over 22 points.

A year later, Thompkins was named to the USA Select squad, a group of collegians that worked as training partners alongside the USA National Team.

DAMIEN WILKINS

2015
PAN AM GAMES
TORONTO

Former Bulldog Damien Wilkins was selected for the United States National Team that participated in the 2015 Pan Am Games in Toronto. Wilkins, 35, played for the Bulldogs in 2002-03 and 2003-04 and served as Georgia's co-captain as a senior when he averaged 12.6 points per game.

"It's kind of surreal; hasn't hit me yet," Wilkins said after being chosen for the 12-player squad. "It's an unbelievable honor. I'm just super thrilled to be here. I feel just like a kid again. You're playing for country."

Wilkins started every contest in the five-game tournament and helped the Americans secure a bronze medal. He averaged 13.2 points while shooting 54.8 percent from the floor, 75.0 percent from 3-point range and 70.8 percent from the line. Wilkins also chipped in 5.0 rebounds in 25.4 minutes per game.

Following the Games, Wilkins signed a free agent contract with the Charlotte Hornets to continue his 10-season NBA career.

The first games in Georgia basketball history took place in the old YMCA building, located at the corner of Lumpkin and Clayton streets.

Since the inaugural season of 1905-06, Georgia basketball has called six different buildings home. These facilities have held a wide range of usefulness and pertinence to basketball. There's little doubt, however, that the Bulldogs' current home of Stegeman Coliseum is the best, most accommodating home they've ever had.

During the 1906-12 seasons, Georgia games were played in the old Athens YMCA building located at the corner of Lumpkin and Clayton Streets, currently the site of the Georgia Theater. The seating capacity for spectators was about 200, but it didn't seem to matter in those days. The earliest Bulldogs played their games in relative anonymity. Very rarely did the attendance reach full capacity at the YMCA building.

The building that is now called Memorial Hall on campus was the second gymnasium used by the Bulldog cagers. Construction on this facility began in 1910 and was to be built by the Alumni and the YMCA in a joint effort. The Alumni Association, however, eventually assumed full responsibility for the funds for its construction. Only in a partial state of completion, the team began to use the auditorium of "Alumni Hall," as it was called then, for its home games. Spectators viewed the games from a balcony which ran around the playing court, and the baskets were affixed to this balcony. In fact, the balcony became quite the advantage for Bulldog hoopsters, who had to tailor the arc of their shots to avoid hitting it.

Alumni Hall was used until about 1920, when the team moved to another on-campus location known as "The Octagon." It was located about where the current Main Library parking lot is, between the library and Jackson Street. Built in 1916 for $3,600 and for the purpose of accommodating summer-school functions, the Octagon was made of wood and sat approximately 1,400 people. The main problem for basketball was the lack of a heating system in this 8-sided building. There was also a four-foot opening around the wall up to the roof, with the roof overhanging to prevent rain from blowing in. The Octagon was used sparingly because of the absence of heat and also because of the ever-growing crowds.

Moss Auditorium, formerly the third floor of what became the Gallant-Belk store, was used for most of the games from 1920 until Woodruff Hall was completed. Crowds of up to 1,500 were estimated to have attended some of the home games.

Around this time, however, Coach Herman J. Stegeman was building quite a program. It became necessary for the basketball team to enjoy its own facility to accommodate the large crowds. Just before the completion of Woodruff Hall in 1925, the Bulldogs moved back into Alumni Hall, the construction of which had finally resumed after a fund-raising drive.

Excavation began on November 20, 1924 for the construction of Woodruff Hall, the building that was named for George and Harry Woodruff of Columbus, Ga. This facility was built in a central on-campus location, where the Journalism/Psychology building now stands, and had a seating capacity of 3,500. There was space enough for three basketball courts, with the main court measuring not quite the required length of 94 feet. Built at an estimated cost of $53,000, Woodruff Hall was officially dedicated by Dr. S.V. Sanford on Feb. 21, 1925 in a game where Georgia defeated Georgia Tech 34-24.

Woodruff Hall served as the Bulldogs' home for nearly 40 years. By the end of that stretch, however, many believed it had become the bane of the program.

Harbin "Red" Lawson was Georgia's coach for the last 13 years in Woodruff Hall. Publicly, he joked that it was the only basketball facility where wind direction and velocity affected his strategy. Other coaches, led by Kentucky's Adolph Rupp, despised playing games there. So dimly lit was Woodruff Hall that Auburn coach Joel Eaves turned out half the lights in his own gym, just to prepare for the Georgia game.

Eventually, Eaves became Athletic Director at Georgia. Two years into his tenure, in 1964, the Bulldogs dedicated their current home as the Georgia Coliseum. In 1996, it was given its current name of Stegeman Coliseum in honor of the man that first lifted the Georgia basketball program into prominence.

Over its 50 years, Stegeman Coliseum has hosted its share of memories, and also extracurricular functions. Operated in a co-op agreement with the University's agricultural college, the Bulldogs once shared the building with various rodeos and other livestock shows. And in 1996, the world's sporting attention turned to Athens, where Stegeman played host to volleyball and rhythmic gymnastics competitions at the 1996 Summer Olympic Games.

ENSURING THE FUTURE OF UGA ATHLETICS

In an effort to permanently fund student-athlete scholarships, the UGA Athletic Association founded the Athletic Scholarship Endowment Program. The Program allows friends of the Athletic Association to invest in the educational opportunities of our deserving student-athletes through endowing a named scholarship for $200,000.

The Athletic Association does not receive University, State or Federal funding to cover the full costs of in-state and out of state student-athlete scholarships. The interest generated from the endowment is critical in offsetting the scholarship costs for our current student-athletes. As the costs of higher education escalate, building a strong endowment is crucial to enhancing the lives of our student-athletes while preparing them for life beyond athletics. Contact The Georgia Bulldog Club at 877-GA-DAWGS today to learn more about endowment opportunities for one of UGA's 21 varsity sports.

All Athletic Scholarship Endowment Donors are invited to an annual reception where they have the opportunity to connect with the recipient of their scholarship.

To date, more than 200 scholarships have been endowed.
